U.S. HUNTER TO SEEK BIG GAME HEADS

Wealthy Sportsman Plans Elaborate Expedition to Northern B.C.

VISITS VANCOUVER TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

Cavalcade Will Start From Prince George When Snow Clears

(Special to The Colonist. Copyright, 1930.)
VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (GNS).—For thrills and adventure, a big game hunt through mountains of British Columbia to the Yukon boundary has no rival. Add to this, a cavalcade of hunters on horseback, a mining engineer and a prospector and you have the ingredients of one of the most interesting expeditions ever to seek bear in Canada.
Lured by tales of big kills and enormous trophies, Mr. De Ghandel, wealthy American sportsman, has been in Vancouver making arrangements for a trip through the game country of British Columbia next Spring. This hunter, who spends all his time traveling from one game country to another, is planning one of the most elaborate expeditions ever to enter the interior of British Columbia.

TRAVELS IN SPLENDOR

Mr. De Ghandel, little known to the public, travels in the greatest splendor. He is accompanied by two Indian servants, and often transports his Rolls-Royce, across the continent or ocean that he happens to be traveling. He has hunted lions in Africa, fish in the tropics, elephants in the jungle, and there is probably no big game country that has not yielded its trophies to his expert marksmanship.
The coast province is no stranger to sportsmen of his type. A few years ago, George Eastman took a large party on a bear hunt in this district, with Bryan Williams, now provincial game warden, in charge of the party. It is Mr. Williams who has arranged the proposed De Ghandel expedition for the Spring, and laid out the route to be followed.

TO START IN MAY

In the middle of this month, J. Smith, expert guide from Snowshoe, B.C., will travel to New Mexico to make final arrangements with the big game hunter. It is expected that he will be about May when the snow finally allows the party to start out, and it is expected that there will be huge bear pelts brought out to add more glory to British Columbia game haunts.

The party will follow the Fraser River from Prince George to the McGregor River and north to Fort St. John. From there they will travel to the head of the Finlay River, moving eastwards from this point towards Atlin or Teslin Lake. This is the route traversed during the Yukon gold rush by some prospectors en route to Dawson.

DAIRY IMPORTS TO BE WATCHED SAYS PREMIER

No Advances As to Rumored Increase of Australian Shipments

ADDRESSED PUBLIC BODIES IN INTERIOR

While no official intimation had been received by the Government which would support any suggestion that British Columbia was to be shortly flooded with abnormal shipments of Australian butter, the situation of dairy imports was being kept carefully under review, Premier Tolmie stated on his return to the city yesterday from the interior.
The whole question of imports had been thoroughly taken up by the Government with the proper authorities at Ottawa, said Dr. Tolmie, and the assurance received that British Columbia's viewpoint on this and analogous matters would be borne in mind in the framing of any further policy in this regard.

After delivering the keynote speech at the annual Conservative convention at Penticton, Premier Tolmie last week continued on to Nelson and Trail, where he was accorded very hearty receptions by public and private bodies of the interior. He was back at his desk early yesterday morning, having shaken off the cold which had attacked him earlier in the month.

A number of matters were awaiting his attention when the Premier plunged into the business of the moment to the exclusion of all callers.

BANK CLOSING DOORS

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Dec. 6.—The First National Bank and Sioux National Bank, with combined deposits of more than $12,000,000, were closed after business hours today by their directors.

COAL MINE EXPLOSION

MADRID, N.H., Dec. 6.—An explosion in the Lamb Coal Mine today killed three men and injured several others, all workers in the mine.

Vancouver Bandits Raid Theatre and Overpower Manager

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—The Grandview Theatre, on Commercial Drive between First and Second Avenues, was the scene of a holdup late tonight, two armed bandits escaping with approximately $400. The two men entered Manager Doctor's office, forced him to open the office safe, took the contents and dashed out. On their way to the street they held up and robbed the doorman and an usher of small sums. The robbery was done by two men. They wore handkerchiefs over their faces.

BRITAIN'S COAL SUPPLY IS SAFE UNTIL FEBRUARY

Scottish Strikers Return to Work in Pits Under Temporary Truce

PERMANENT BASIS OF SETTLEMENT SOUGHT

GLASGOW, Dec. 6 (AP).—Britain's coal supply is safe at least until next February, for a conference of Miners' Union officials today ordered $5,000 strikers in the Scottish fields back to work immediately, ending a strike which began on December 1. The temporary agreement under which work is to be resumed provides for payment of the wage scale effective before enactment of the new Coal Mines Act. The agreement will extend to the end of next February, and meantime union leaders and mine owners will try to patch up some permanent settlement.
In neither this truce nor in that reached earlier in the week by miners in the South Wales fields was any kind of an agreement made regarding the "spread over" working schedule which is at the bottom of all the difficulty.
This is the system by which the mine owners want to work their properties in five eight-hour shifts and one five-hour shift a week, instead of on the straight seven and a half-hour day established in the Coal Mines Act.

ONE KILLED; THREE HURT BY MOTOR CAR

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Miss Stacey Gaffney was instantly killed and three men are in hospital critically injured, while a second woman escaped with shock as a result of the five being struck down by an automobile as they were stepping from the curb to another car on Hastings Street East early this morning.

The critically injured are: Stanley Ramsden and G. Beardswood, both with possible fractured skulls and laceration of the face and scalp.

Bert Bayless, severe internal injuries.

Jack Henderson, Vancouver, is held on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the accident.

Miner Entombed More Than Week Is Found Alive

CASTROP-RAUXEL, Germany, Dec. 6 (AP).—Hans Wiemphal, a miner, was rescued alive last night more than a week after a cave-in had imprisoned him far under the ground. He was taken to a hospital to recover from his harrowing 180-hour entombment.

It was thirty-six hours after a collapsing mine gallery buried him and killed a fellow worker before rescue crews heard Wiemphal say through an air tube he was alive. After that and until he was taken today, milk, beef tea and fresh air were supplied him through the tube.

DEATH MIST OF BELGIUM DISAPPEARS

Mystery of Three Score Deaths Solved by Scientific Study

ALL VICTIMS FOUND TO HAVE HAD WEAKNESSES

Stifling Fog Proved Fatal to Those With Respiratory Disorders

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Dec. 6 (AP).—Villagers in the Meuse Valley went back tonight to the homes from which they had fled in terror before a wall of fog, which appeared to be driving death before it.

The fog had lifted, and with it had gone the mystery with which it had been endowed. The public health commission asserted after an official investigation that the more than three score deaths attributed to the fog had resulted from nothing more mysterious than weakened respiratory systems of victims. With few exceptions all of those who died were more than fifty years old. A third of them suffered heart ailments and were known to have chronic bronchial trouble. The doctors said it was the cold, smoke-laden fog, and nothing else, which choked them to death.

THEORY EXPLORED

These findings, supported by the diagnoses of physicians who had repudiated a frantic night treating the victims, exploded the theory that noxious gases from industrial plants had caused the deaths, and they dispelled the fears of peasants that Belgium was in the path of a sinister gas barrage.

These simple folk, watching their neighbors dying in alarming numbers, persisted in the belief that the fog itself was only the screen for a deadly attack whose origin they did not attempt to explain. Some of the farm stock died also, and last night cattle slept in farmhouse kitchens while their owners covered inside with all the windows sealed.

Those who fled to safety at other points drifted back home again tonight, convinced at last that the menace had been removed.

PATIENTIC TRAGEDY

At the village of Ucles on the outskirts of Brussels there was another pathetic gas tragedy today. Five children, ranging in age from six months to six years, were asphyxiated in their beds by gas escaping from a heater while their parents were away from home.

The fog left sixty-four dead in eight villages in its wake, and nearly all the residents of that part of the valley of the Meuse suffered serious inconvenience from it.

Governor Honored by Engineers

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Hon. R. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, emerged in a new role this evening, that of a qualified engineer, to add to an already extensive list of accomplishments in other directions.

At the annual gathering here of the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia, His Honor was installed as a life member of the organization, heard his "qualifications" read, and joined thoroughly in the spirit of goodwill that accompanied the bestowal of the honor. Major J. C. MacDonald presided.

The Association of Professional Engineers is the controlling body in the province in regard to the status and conduct of professional engineers.

The invited guests included His Honor R. Randolph Bruce, Hon. W. A. McKenzie, Hon. R. W. Bruhn, Hon. Joseph Hinchcliffe, and members of the judiciary, civic business and transportation circles in the province.

WILL STAY SEVERAL DAYS

Wasson and Walsh flew between the missing plane and Wolf Lake several times before they returned here Thursday, but found no trace of the missing men. Today, however, they began another search in the district which will take them several days.

The search duo intend flying to Pelly, Banks, at the head of the Polity River, where there is a trading post. It is possible that Burke and his companions met some Indians from Pelly Banks who took them there for a meal.

Under warrants from Ontario and British Columbia, Inspector William Stringer, Ontario officer, and Inspector Detective Ledoux took over the custody of the prisoner, who was driven to the Alberta Provincial Police headquarters in the city, where preparations were made for the trip to Vancouver, where he will be arraigned. They will leave at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning for Calgary.

Province Markets Securities at 4.26 On $4,000,000 Issue

CONSTITUTING the best price paid for two-year notes of British Columbia in postwar years, $4,000,000 of Government securities were sold this week by Hon. J. W. Jones, Minister of Finance, to an Eastern Canadian syndicate at the low cost of 4.26 per cent net to the Province. The issue was taken immediately for institutional investments. The sum of $3,000,000 is to meet maturing obligations, and $1,000,000 to cover unemployment relief matters in connection with the Federal plan.

Mr. Jones called for private tenders for the refunding of $3,000,000 of one-year treasury bills, recently matured at New York. The best bid was entered by a powerful syndicate composed of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Royal Bank of Canada, Wood, Gundy & Company, Toronto, and Dillon, Read & Company, New York. They offered to take $4,000,000 of two-year 4 per cent notes at $99.50, to yield 4.26 per cent in New York, where the original treasury bills matured.

That on a 4.26 per cent basis, the bid accepted was the most favorable received for any two-year term issue in postwar years. The lowest cost of any similar issue previously had been 4.73 per cent. British Columbia, as it developed, made three points better than Manitoba, which sold $4,000,000 worth of two-year 4 per cent notes on the same day, receiving a price of $99.47 as against the $99.50 bid for the issue of this province.

The money was required, stated Mr. Jones, for the purpose of refunding the $3,000,000 issue at New York, and $1,000,000 to be used more or less in connection with the unemployment relief financing occasioned by the Federal plan.

In August last, recalled the Minister of Finance, the Province placed today after former Premier Raymond Poincare had refused on account of ill-health.

Certain political groups held the belief, however, that President Gaston Doumergue might ask Poincare to reconsider and take command if Barthou fails to get enough support.

CONSULTING FRIENDS

The Senator told the President he would consult friends and political leaders during the night and would return to the Elysée Palace tomorrow morning to report success or failure.

The radical Socialists, who since 1928 have refused to take part in any conciliation government, announced a change of stance this evening. They will offer Barthou their almost necessary assistance providing certain portfolios are given them. Heretofore they have demanded a dead end post of the Minister of Interior, but it is understood now they will be content without it.

The chance of policy was said to have been caused by strong desire to thwart a possible return of the radical Socialists' old enemy, Andre Tardieu, to the premiership.

This view was weakened, however, by the announcement tonight that Tardieu had agreed to serve in the Barthou Cabinet providing a sufficient majority could be found for the issue of the Republican or moderate groups.

The problem of filling the portfolio of foreign affairs was settled when Aristide Briand, Foreign Minister in the Tardieu Cabinet, consented to join the combination. Senator Barthou, who is sixty-eight years old, has long been considered one of the strongest of French statesmen. He has had a brilliant political, literary and legal career.

THE TARDIEU MAY SERVE

The Senator told the President he would consult friends and political leaders during the night and would return to the Elysée Palace tomorrow morning to report success or failure.

E. L. Wasson Returns to Liard District to Seek Missing Airmen

TRIO BELIEVED SAFE

WHITE HORSE, Y.T., Dec. 6 (CP).—Pilot E. L. Wasson and Joe Walsh, prospector, today resumed their search for Captain E. J. A. Burke, Vancouver aviator, and two companions, missing somewhere between the Polity River and the headwaters of the Liard River. Wasson and Walsh returned here two days ago after having inspected at close range Burke's plane, which they had located fifty miles from Wolf Lake the week before. They found a message carved in a tree indicating that Burke and his companions, Emil Kading and Joe Marten, had begun a trek for Wolf Lake on October 17, six days after they had first been reported as missing.

Raymond Poincare Declines Task on Account of His Ill-Health

PARIS, Dec. 6 (AP).—Senator Louis Barthou, once Premier of France and a dozen times Cabinet Minister, was trying tonight to conciliate France's many political parties in an effort to form a Cabinet to succeed the defeated Tardieu Ministry.

M. Barthou accepted the difficult task of forming a government late today after former Premier Raymond Poincare had refused on account of ill-health.

Certain political groups held the belief, however, that President Gaston Doumergue might ask Poincare to reconsider and take command if Barthou fails to get enough support.

Okanagan Apples Find Great Favor In Buenos Aires

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Indications of a growing export trade for British Columbia apples are shown in the increased shipments to the Argentine. Last year a small consignment of British Columbia apples was sent to Buenos Aires, with the result that nearly thirty carloads have been shipped for this season. A special shipment of eight cars will leave Vernon, Saturday, over the Canadian National Railways for Buenos Aires, where they will be transhipped to C.N.S. Pathfinders for direct route to the South American city. These two different shipments, amounting to twenty cars, will be brought to the city by the same railway and shipped by steamer direct from here.

Ashes of Late John Cragg, "Mayor of Leechtown," Interred Yesterday

OLD FRIENDS ATTEND UNIQUE CEREMONY

In the serene quiet of the hills he loved so well, and within sound of the whispering waters of the Leech, where he painted for gold intermittently ever since 1896, the ashes of John Henry Cragg, "Mayor of Leechtown," amateur poet, erstwhile aviator and nature lover, were laid to rest yesterday morning.

A small group of friends accompanied the remains from Victoria and attended the simple funeral service and committal rites. C. L. Harrison, outgoing leader of the Alpine Club of Victoria and one of the picturesque "Mayors" of Leechtown, presided at the ceremony. He paid a simple, sincere tribute to the memory of the man who had more than anyone in the Sooke mountains found and felt their beauty, and whose hospitality and friendship all visitors to the district had experienced at one time or another.

ALWAYS IN HURRY

Just turned thirty-four, Sir Oswald is known as "a young man in a hurry," and the destination he is aiming for is considered to be No. 10 Downing Street, and the premiership.

He jumped into Ramsay MacDonald's ministry only to resign recently because Laborite leaders rejected his proposals to solve unemployment. Hence, the manifesto may be taken as the voice of young England in the Labor movement, and it concludes with the words: "The country cannot wait. We want action now to meet the national emergency."

PLANS FOR EMPLOYMENT

Its more important proposals include: A national planning organization to develop new industries and to modernize old ones. An organization to turn out houses and buildings in the same way munitions were turned out during the war.

Some postponement of the repayment of the war debt. Licenses or tariffs for the control of imported manufactures. An import board for foodstuffs, a guaranteed price for farm products, and the purchase of stocks of consumers against unfair prices.

H. R. STENTON PASSES FROM HEART ATTACK

Popular Business Man Succumbs Without Warning at His Home

RESIDENT OF CITY OVER TWENTY YEARS

Harry R. Stenton, a resident of Victoria for the last twenty-two years, during which time he was engaged in professional photography, died suddenly at his home, 1261 McKenzie Street, at 10:30 o'clock last night. Mr. Stenton, who had not complained of being ill, had attended to his business duties during the day and seemed to be in good health during the evening. Death came without warning. Mr. Stenton came to Victoria from Detroit and engaged in business up to the time of his death. He was fifty-two years old. He is survived by his widow and one son, Billy, twelve years old. Mr. Stenton was a member of Britannia Lodge, A.F. & A.M.

By reason of his sunny disposition, invariably coupled with a willingness to be of service to any person requiring his assistance, Harry Stenton was popular with a host of friends. Always cheerful, an infectious laugh, he looked upon the bright side of things, and his example encouraged others. His passing will leave a gap that will be hard to fill.

STARK WANT HOVERS ABOVE SOME VICTORIA HOMES WHEN CHRISTMASTIDE APPROACHES

This story came to The Colonist yesterday, and because it has a direct connection with the appeal which is being made by Mayor Herbert Ansbom for the unemployment fund which is to be used to alleviate conditions in some of the hard-hit homes of the city this Christmastide, it is published here.

A small Victoria boy returned from school a few days ago and reminded his mother that last year he had asked Santa Claus for a pair of roller skates, a mecano and a real dog, and this year he was expecting to get a new pair of roller skates, a bicycle and a baseball bat. Now, this boy's father last year had steady work, and there was no difficulty whatever in telling Santa Claus what to bring to the Christmas tree. But this year things are very different; a little brother has come in the meantime, there has been much sickness in the home, daddy hasn't had a job for months, and they are in straitened circumstances. Not only are the roller skates, the bicycle and the baseball bat out of the question, but some of the real necessities, such as shoes and stockings, underwear, and even good nourishing food are needed even at this moment. And this is only one of many homes where real want is hovering near, ready to strike hard at the first hint of really cold weather, when the absence of fuel will be directly felt, or in the event of continued unemployment of the breadwinner.

A committee, headed by Mayor Ansbom, and which includes F. Landsberg, James Fletcher and J. W. Spencer, will administer the money.

Subscriptions left at The Colonist Office will go to supplement the $750,000 already received, some of which has gone direct to Mr. Landsberg.

Amounts received to date are as follows: Anon., $2; A. J. S. $10; A. Widow, $1; Mrs. W. E. $5; A. B. H. $1; Av. $1; Bimby, $50; Dougie, $50; Donny, $50; E. C. M. $50; A. MAYOR ANSCOMB STATES BY-LAWS ARE IMPORTANT

Explains Measures to Come Before the Ratepayers on Thursday Next

WILL CREATE LABOR DURING COMING YEAR

Commenting on the two by-laws that are to be submitted to the ratepayers at the municipal polling on Thursday next, the Exhibition Buildings By-Law and the Fire Equipment Loan By-Law, Mayor Anscomb said both were deserving of the support of the citizens of Victoria.

WILLOWS BILL

"The passage of the Willows by-law will, I think, be reflected under three headings. First, if the grounds are ever to be developed on the basis of a comprehensive plan the passing of the by-law will put that development into effect.

Second, the manufacturing interests have continually requested some suitable and adequate building in which they can display their products, not only to the people of Victoria, but to those from the outside who visit us during fair week. This development will then be secured to their satisfaction and is one in which we should all take a great interest. Any effort to help the development of manufacturing enterprises gives a direct return in purchasing power to all merchants. Building for horse shows and cattle judging is of importance from the viewpoint that it will stimulate the bringing to the fair of a good class of livestock for show purposes. The facilities for this have been inadequate in the past. The buildings will serve a twofold purpose as they will take care of horse shows and cattle judging, which, at best, would be a thing of the past in a few years with the existing buildings, as they have passed their day of usefulness and will have to be demolished.

FINANCIAL SIDE

Third, the financial structure of the by-law is its most important feature from all taxpayers' viewpoints and is very simple of explanation. The total cost is $70,000, of which the Government pays one-half, leaving the city's share at $35,000. The city's share of cost per year for ten years is $4,525.50. Revenue from rents in agreements already signed for manufacturers' buildings, are approximately $1,400. Grant from Oak Bay by remission of taxes, $600, leaving the net yearly charge on the city of $2,525.50.

OAK BAY GRANT

"It should be understood," the Mayor said, "the Oak Bay Municipality is very generously offering to rebate taxes if the work is undertaken, and do make a larger grant than that specified in the by-law. The new buildings would be taxable as well as those already in existence had they not given the remission suggested. The passage of the by-law will create a good deal of construction labor at a time when it is most needed, particularly during the early months of the year."

FIRE EQUIPMENT

The fire protection by-law, the Mayor stated, provides for the renewal of a good deal of the fire-fighting equipment that is now out of date, and not in proper shape to take care of the necessary duties. "It should be remembered that life itself is involved in the question of fire loss in exactly the same manner as the loss of a home or building. Both of the latter, however, may be replaced, but not so the human element."

Even after it had lifted the terror and bewilderment which it had inspired remained.

FOG WAS WIDESPREAD

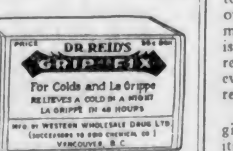

The fog, although its fatal results were confined to a small district above Liege, in the valley of the Meuse, was general over most of Western Europe. From Hamburg on the north, to below Paris, in the south, and over a large part of the British Isles the blanket of mist was heavier than had been known for years. Shipping was tied up and airplane services were discontinued.

The Meuse Valley fog, with its dire results, recalls phenomena connected with the formation of fogs of the past, particularly of a dry fog during 1783, which created great terror, even among civilized people, in a large part of the world. This is described by Professor E. J. Houston in his publication, "The Atmosphere."

The 1783 fog was due to the presence of extremely attenuated matter, possibly of the same nature as that which forms shooting stars or meteoric stones which had become entangled with the atmosphere. This fog first appeared at Copenhagen on May 24, 1783. By June 6 it had reached La Rochelle, France, and on June 18 it was at Gottingen. It then spread over Syria and the Alpine Mountains, and was seen over a large part of North America.

NO TRACE OF HUMIDITY

This historic fog showed no traces whatever of humidity, according to Professor Houston. It caused great alarm, especially in the cities of Paris, Stockholm, Geneva, Rome and Copenhagen, where it continued for a month or longer. During its prevalence, a phosphoric steam appeared in the air of sufficient brightness to permit the smallest print to be read at midnight. A similar fog to the foregoing was experienced over the entire North-

THE WEDDING OF RUMPTY-FOO

The Squire thwacked a bulging thigh.
His pompous belly shook
With merriment, a trifle sly.
A pinch of snuff he took.

"Egad," quoth he, "A tasty dish,
My dimpled daughter Sue
To wed that wealthy vapid fish,
The Earl of Rumpty-Foo!"

Without, a pair of champion mares
Play havoc with the gravel:
The hapless Bride descends the stairs.
How loath she seems to travel!

"O Father cruel," she sadly moans,
"I can't believe it true
You'd wed me to that bag of bones—
The Earl of Rumpty-Foo!"

"Now hoist thy hosen, graceless jade,"
Snorted the angry Squire,
"The Earl's a wow! A merry Blade!"
(A page-boy whispered, "Liar!")

The maiden said, through lips a-twitch,
"A curse upon this marriage!"
Then gave her camisole a hitch
And settled in the carriage.

Anon, she tatters up the aisle
And sees through eyes so dim,
A figure tall, she grits, "How vile
To scramble eggs for him!"

Begrudgingly she kneeleth down,
Her head begins to hum,
(She'd bump him off for half-a-crown—
The aggravating bum!)

A sidelong glance she needs must take,
(Just as all women do)
And lo! Her nostrils seem to quake—
It wasn't Rumpty-Foo!

Her lover, Oswald, priceless bloke,
She recognized the pimple
That glistened 'neath his heavy cloak—
(A good disguise, and simple.)

"Well done, well done, my trusty lad,"
She whispers 'neath her veil,
"But what's become of 'Foo' and Dad?"
She asks, a trifle pale.

"Forget them both, my bonnie bride,
I saw they felt no pain—
I only hope their bodies slide—
'Twere shame to lose the drain!"

THUGS PLANNING BANK ROBBERY BIND TWO AND TAKE GIRL AS HOSTAGE

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Dec. 6 (AP).—Three gunmen planning to rob the Stockwell State Bank, near here, today, tied up the cashier, Oscar Hamilton, late last night, tied Hamilton and his wife to chairs and kidnapped their daughter, Helen, nineteen. Forced to flee, they later released her unharmed, in Chicago.

Another daughter, Mary, fifteen, escaped through a window when she heard the excitement and spread the alarm among neighbors, who frightened the would-be robbers into flight.

Hein, a high school senior, walked the Chicago Avenue police station at 3 a.m. today and told her story.

The men, believed to have been Chicago gangsters, knocked at Hamilton's door at 10 o'clock last night, the girl said, and trussed her parents to chairs. The men spoke of robbing the bank and using the girl as a hostage.

By-Law Passage Would Relieve Unemployment Hardship

THE record of increased attendances, increased exhibits and greater demands for space at the Victoria Exhibition in recent years should prove convincing arguments in favor of the passage of the by-law which comes before the electors. Thursday, says W. H. Mearns, secretary of the Provincial Exhibition.

At a cost of $35,000, spread over a ten-year period, Victoria will be able to secure at the Willows a much-needed manufacturers' building and a horse show building, the total cost of which will be $70,000. Mr. Mearns points out half the cost will be borne by the Provincial Government. Against the $35,000 expenditure for which the city is called upon the space in the manufacturers' building, and even with the extra amount available, every inch would be rented for the next fair, Mr. Mearns points out.

The secretary also again stressed the opportunity it gives for Victoria to relieve the unemployment situation at its most acute stage. "What better Christmas present could Victoria give to many now in distress than productive work and assurance of a pay cheque through the hardest weeks of Winter," he asked.

VICTORIA BOY WINS COVETED RHODES PRIZE

Gibson, director of high school correspondence instruction for the province.

He has been recognized for some time as one of the best and most logical debaters in the university. Last year he was the winner for the Vancouver Island district of the all-Canada oratorical competition sponsored by The Vancouver Sun, and the results of which were decided in Toronto. Just a few days ago he debated for the University of British Columbia against the British team which came through to the Coast, his work being very favorably commented on by the judges. He recently won the B.C. gold medal in history awarded in connection with the Dominion history competition.

The fact that the British Columbia committee made no appointment last year, as none of the applicants were considered suitable, gave it the privilege of naming two Rhodes scholars this year.

Announcement of the appointments were made by D. N. Hosie, secretary for British Columbia of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

BASIS OF AWARD

The award is made on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and personality, and general educational achievement.

British Columbia entered Rhodes Scholarship eligibility in 1904, among the Victoria men who have received the award previously were: A. Yates, 1909; J. B. Clearhune, 1911; E. V. Gordon, 1915, and E. J. Knapton, 1926.

The complete list of British Columbia Rhodes scholars is as follows: A. W. Donaldson, 1904; J. I. Robinson, 1908; H. R. Bray, 1909; Peter Larsen, 1907; H. T. Logan, 1908; A. Yates, 1909; S. C. Dyke, 1910; J. B. Clearhune, 1911; A. K. King, 1912; G. L. Hagan, 1913; D. E. Atkins, 1914; E. V. Gordon, 1915; E. W. Berry, 1916; Sherman Lett, 1919; J. H. Mannie, 1919; L. A. Mills, 1920; W. H. Coates, 1920; R. L. Volmum, 1921; L. W. McLennan, 1922; N. A. Robertson, 1923; G. B. Livingstone, 1924; E. J. Knapton, 1925; H. V. Warren, 1926, and A. E. Grauer, 1927.

Said the teacher to an exceedingly backward boy, "If I say 'I have won,' that is wrong, isn't it?" "Yes, sir," agreed the boy.

"But what is wrong about it?" "Well, sir, you're still 'ere.'"

Engaged in Wordy Battle

ABOVE are shown Premier R. B. Bennett (left), and Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, British Secretary for the Dominions, who figured in a verbal duel in recent Empire trade discussion. Mr. Bennett has labeled Mr. Thomas' speech, characterizing Canadian preference proposals as "humbug," as "contemptuous rejection" and resented by Canada.

BUFFALO ORDER HOLDS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

Early History Is Related to Gathering at Chamber of Commerce

Officers, members and friends of the Royal Antediluvian Order of Buffaloes gathered last night at the Chamber of Commerce for the sixth annual banquet dance of the order, which was presided over by E. Goldsmith.

During the banquet a number of toasts were given, including one to "The Order," proposed by John Stoller and replied to by Hugh MacKay. Mr. MacKay also proposed the toast to the ladies, and George Okell, officiating as toastmaster, sponsored a toast to the visitors, Dr. Esquimaux, responding. The toast to Provincial Grand Lodge was given by Mr. Okell and replied to by E. Goldsmith.

Sir Knight Gibson gave a review of the early history of the organization, and its prominence in England, where there are said to be 12,000 members. He said it was the only known organization having branches on land and sea and in the air. On practically all of the naval ships there were branches, and the history of the order was on the ill-fated voyage of the ship R-101 were members, he said.

Give Freely To the Needy

THE smile of a child is something we must preserve.

It is the most precious and valuable thing in existence. One cannot conceive of true happiness where the smiles of children are absent.

The care-worn face of a needy child is the most atrocious sight in human experience. In a country where plenty abound.

There are about 1,500 children in Victoria, who are dependent upon you, the bountiful public, this Christmas for some essential gift. To refuse is to sadden and disappoint. To give is to create a "child's smile," to "satisfy a need," to create a sense of satisfaction, and to show that others care.

We, the unemployed, ask for a generous response for the little ones—the innocents who will suffer from an insufficiency this happy Christmas time. Remember—December 131 Tag day for the children.

SLIGHT FOOD CHANGES AFFECT THE BODY TREMENDOUSLY

My grandniece weighed less at eight months than at birth, due to "infantile eczema." Was plastered with ointments and unattended for seven months—entire household exhausted from lack of sleep. I added vegetable juice to each bottle feeding, nothing more. After two days she slept fourteen hours without making a sound. Ointments then discontinued, bath resumed. No rash, no itching in four years since. Why? Vegetable juice alkalinized her blood, killing the acid-caused eczema. Alkaline Roman Meal has kept her blood alkaline since.

Alkaline Roman Meal also saved my life when the great Oiler told me twenty-two years ago I could not live four months. Now, at seventy-two, not two per cent of men thirty have muscles, strength or endurance equal to mine, built up out of alkaline Roman Meal. I'll send you a free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," and other literature, also sample of Roman Meal and Kofy-sub, the new alkaline beverage, if you'll write for them to ROBERT G. NO OPTION BUT TO PROCEED IN BROKERAGE CASE

Attorney-General Pooley Says Duty of Province Is Clear

CIVIL CLAIMANTS WILL HAVE VIEW OF BOOKS

Confirming the intention of his department to proceed in due course with the prosecution of Isaac W. C. Soliway and Harvey Mills, partners of the firm of Soliway, Mills & Company, Attorney-General R. H. Pooley, K.C., yesterday replied to criticism that had been leveled editorially at this stand.

"The facts of the case are very simple," said Mr. Pooley, "and they left us only one course of action—to prosecute and lay all the facts before the courts. When these men were tried in Alberta, Mr. Justice Ives in his judgment stated definitely that in Vancouver the conditions under which the firm was operating were as bad as, if not worse than, in Alberta. This judgment of course put the responsibility of prosecuting clearly on our shoulders and left us no option whatever in the matter. It was a clear-cut duty on our part, and we are fulfilling it."

Whether an offence has been committed or not is a matter for the courts, and for no one else, to decide. As we are bound to do, we are going to give the courts all the facts of this matter that we have secured. This will fulfill a duty which we do not propose to evade," concluded Mr. Pooley.

Complaints had been made to him that clients of the stock firm of Soliway, Mills & Company, who are said to be suing in civil process against the firm, had been unable to secure admission to the books of the company. The books are now in possession of the Province, and so far as he was concerned, he saw no objection to them being examined by litigants, stated the Attorney-General.

BULBS AND FLOWERS ARE MARKET SELLERS

Public Eager to Obtain Earliest Stock of Local Growers—Christmas Puddings for Sale

Discoverer of New Berry Disease in B.C. Modestly Unaware of His Triumph

Young British Columbian Has Made Scientific History in His Studies

Interviewed by The Colonist yesterday, William Robert Foster, brilliant young plant pathologist, who has succeeded in isolating two previously unknown germs causing virulent plant diseases in loganberry and raspberry crops of the province, yielded slightly after persistent efforts to coax him from behind a shield of natural modesty that serves only to enhance the importance of his discoveries, in which he was assisted by the Department of Agriculture.

After graduating from the University of Alberta, Mr. Foster came to British Columbia this year, and was made assistant plant pathologist in connection with the provincial laboratory at the Hazan Bay experimental station operated by the Dominion Government. Early after his arrival there last Spring he noticed the prevalence of drying up of the fruit on loganberries and raspberries, and found that this extended to wild thimbleberries and blackberries, both wild and cultivated.

The local explanation for the drying up of the fruit, which has caused losses ranging from 50 to 80 per cent of the normal crop on some ranches in Saanich in the last few years, was that the soil was deficient, or that too little water could be secured for the proper growth of the canes. If other causes were suspected they were added in the popular mind to those already given, and that was as far as lay knowledge went on the subject of the strange blight, which was causing considerable havoc in the small fruit berry crops.

START OF SEARCH

This, Mr. Foster admitted, gave rise to a question, which to a scientist, is like the starting shot of the hunting season to a well-trained sportsman, an index of excitement ahead. He took several hundred specimens of the berries that had been dried by the blight, and examined them under a lens. This yielded information enough to warrant further investigation, and led to a series of tests, in an effort to isolate the organisms causing the twin diseases, two distinct types of which were to be seen on every hand.

Mr. Foster tested the receptacles of the fruit in media, and in two or three days bacterial colonies appeared. From this start a pure culture was secured, where the germs are all derived from one bacterium. Under the microscope, of 900 power magnification, these germs showed up as robust bacteria of about 3-5000ths of an inch in length, and bi-polar, with dark color bands at either end.

CAUSE IS FOUND

First the germ affecting mostly loganberry fruits was isolated, and then a similar chain of research developed its bacterial brother, who preys on raspberries, as a chief diet, but is not above propagating himself in wild thimbleberry and other plants.

The young scientist found that the germs most likely attacked the plants in the early Spring, when flowering was on, and used a favorite insect, the carrier, as a means of locomotion from place to place.

At many stages of the work Mr. Foster was assisted and advised by Dominion and provincial horticultural officials, and with this much gained from his initial researches set out to study the possible means of control of the two entirely new plant diseases he has unearthed.

STUDIES CONTROL

The diseases, he found, attack the most succulent growths, where the young growing tissue is most susceptible to their advances. This attack is promoted, too, by humid weather, and adversely affected by sunlight, as are bacteria preying on human organisms known to medicine. Liquid manure and fertilizers, promoting succulent growth of canes, encourage the diseases, which through the aid of the insect carriers, spread rapidly once they have attacked any patch of berries.

A dry Spring, eradication of wild growths carrying the disease, spraying against the insect carriers, and other forms of possible control suggested themselves to Mr. Foster, who is pursuing his studies along this line.

In the meantime, the commercial importance of his twin discoveries has attracted wide attention to his work, and publicity has descended on the worried shoulders of a young man who, when most to be left alone, to finish answering the question that occurred to his analytical mind when he first saw the dried out fruits of badly infested berry.

ANYONE who has had experience in kite flying knows that the most beautifully designed and carefully constructed kite will not fly successfully without having attached thereto a rather homely and unnecessary appearing appendage, known as the "tail." This part of the kite is absolutely necessary to provide the equilibrium or balance which enables the kite to adjust itself to varying air currents and to prevent sudden downward plunges resulting in disaster. Unskilled labor is the "tail" of our industrial kite and each year, through labor-saving devices, we have clipped off more and more of this tail, until we now do not have enough left to properly balance the kite. The great mass of our citizens fall into the class of common labor, and it is here that we must look for the consistent consumption of product which will provide an even balance and maintain our industrial equilibrium.

CLUBMEN WILL HEAR DELEGATE

John M. Imrie Will Address Joint Luncheon at Empress on Friday

MASSED DINNER CARDED

CLUB CALENDAR
MONDAY—Olympic Club luncheon in Empress Hotel, 12:10 p.m.
TUESDAY—Kiwanis Club luncheon in Empress Hotel, 12:10 p.m.; Round-Table Club dinner in Empress Hotel, 6:15 p.m.; Business and Professional Women meet in clubrooms, 8 p.m.
THURSDAY—Rotary Club luncheon in Empress Hotel, 12:15 p.m.; special dinner meeting of local men's and women's clubs in Empress Hotel.
FRIDAY—Canadian Club luncheon in Empress Hotel at 12:15 p.m.

A joint luncheon of the Canadian Club and the Victoria Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Empress Hotel next Friday, when John M. Imrie, of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce delegation to the Orient, will give a first hand account of the recent tour of the group.

The meeting here has been made possible through the courtesy of the Vancouver Board of Trade, which has waived its rights to the first luncheon of the group. The delegation has just returned from an extensive survey of trade conditions in China and Japan, and it is expected that Mr. Imrie will have a message of particular interest for Victoria business men.

Another feature of interest in this week's service club programme will be a joint dinner meeting of local service club members, to be held in the Empress Hotel on Thursday evening. Members will confer with those of the kindred organizations from Vancouver, and will endeavor to draw up a programme to assist smaller Canadian clubs in British Columbia.

M. B. JACKSON TO SPEAK
Tomorrow the Gyro will meet as usual, and will hear M. B. Jackson, K.C. Next week the club will hold a mixed gyro dinner in the hotel instead of the regular luncheon meeting.

Colonel J. K. Cornwall will be the speaker at the Kiwanis luncheon in the Empress on Tuesday. His subject will be "Explorations in Northern Alberta and the Peace River Block." In the course of the meeting, Herbert J. Manson will receive the Kiwanis Club scholarship from the hands of the president.

At the weekly dinner of the Round Table Club on Tuesday evening, S. A. Bertrand will address the members on "Prohibition in the United States."

Among the speakers at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club will be Dr. Clem Davies, whose subject will be "What Means Citizenship?"

The Business and Professional Women will hold their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening in the clubrooms, 1118 Langley Street. This will be the last business meeting of the club before Christmas.

Obituary

FERRIS—The funeral of Isabella Jane Ferris took place yesterday afternoon, at 2:15 o'clock, from the Thomson & Petherly Funeral Home, proceeding to St. John's Church, where service was held at 2:30, Rev. Canon Chadwick officiating. The church service was attended by many friends of the deceased, the casket and hearse being covered with many beautiful floral tributes sent by friends in Vancouver and Victoria. The hymns sung were, "Forever With the Lord" and "Abide With Me." Mr. Burnett presided at the organ. The following acted as pallbearers: Chief John Fry, Sgt. James Florence, Sgt. Thomas Healey, of the city police, and Staff-Sgt. Bob Owens, Corp. R. Harvey and Cons. A. G. Carmichael, of the provincial police. Interment was made in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

PETERSON—Funeral services were held for Gustave Peterson, at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon, Rev. A. de B. Owen officiating in the presence of many friends. The hymns sung were, "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." A large number of beautiful floral offerings were received. The remains were later forwarded to Vancouver for cremation.

HARRISON—Many friends attended the funeral of the late John Harrison, which took place yesterday afternoon from McCall Bros' Funeral Home, Rev. C. T. Scott, D.D., conducted the service, during which the hymns, "The Sands of Time," and "Oh, Safe to the Rock," were sung. Interment was made at Ross Bay Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: J. Purdy, R. Stewart, R. Curry, L. Vaughan, A. H. Brown and D. M. McCall.

FREEMAN—The funeral of Miss Ruth E. Freeman will take place on Monday afternoon, proceeding from

Rescued From Starvation

ABOVE shows Inspector Pratt, of the Humane Society, Toronto, holding a small white Spitz dog, which escaped from a crate in which it was about to be shipped away, and wandered about town, starved and starving, for four and a half days, when it was found and its timidity overcome sufficiently to allow of its capture. The muzzle is seen in the inspector's hand. The unfortunate dog's plight aroused interest of officials and citizens in attempts to locate it.

Reporter Who Fired on Premier Is Turned Over To Civil Jurisdiction

By OLIVER FOX
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily Tribune)
MADRID, Dec. 6.—Joquin Lillo, whose unbalanced mind impelled him to fire a pistol in the presence of Premier D'Amaio Berenguer Wednesday, has been turned over to civil jurisdiction instead of military, so that he may receive the attention that his delicate health requires.

A correct interpretation of Senor Lillo's act is important, for it might easily be construed as indicating that General Berenguer is regarded as a sanguinary tyrant whose elimination is desired. The contrary is the truth, for the premier, though criticized by the extreme right, who believe that he deals too leniently with the enemies of law and order, and by the left, who see him as the successor of Dictator Primo de Rivera, is regarded with personal esteem by all and has received thousands of congratulations that no harm befall him.

BERENGUER INDISPENSABLE
General Berenguer is recognized as indispensable as the man whose equanimity twice has delivered Spain from grievous crises since General Primo de Rivera resigned as premier, namely, when the Word has been received in Victoria of the death yesterday afternoon at Vancouver following a lengthy illness of Mrs. Agnes P. Hanington, widow of the late Dr. Ernest Hanington, Passes at Vancouver.

Mrs. Hanington was born in Saint John, N.B., in 1854, and on her wedding day in 1876 she and her husband left the Maritimes for the West. Dr. Hanington was given a position of the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway, with headquarters at Yale, B.C. At the close of construction Dr. and Mrs. Hanington came to Victoria, where Dr. Hanington engaged in practice until his death.

Mrs. Hanington had been in failing health for some time and recently went to Vancouver to be with her son, Dr. D. P. Hanington. The news of her death will be received with regret by her many Victoria friends. She is survived by her son, Dr. D. P. Hanington, and one daughter, Mrs. Richard M. S. Rye, of Cowichan. The remains will be forwarded Monday night to this city for burial.

German Federal railways have installed a new system for cleaning passenger cars by which the coaches are run into huge air-tight cylinders in which is pumped a strong disinfectant gas to kill all germs.

STUDENTS OF DRAMA SEEN IN PROGRAMME

Pupils of B.C. Dramatic School appear to Advantage Two Successive Nights

At the British Columbia Dramatic School Fall recital, held last evening and the previous night, a great variety of turns was presented. A capacity audience was present on both occasions.

A pretty play, "Echo," was given by Margaret Goldsmith, Helen Colton, Victoria Ebbes-Cavanan, Lucille Mackay and Barbara Miller, followed by "David Samuel," a play in which Lillian Toye and Doreen Burgess did excellent work. Helen Colton recited two humorous poems. A short play, "Breaking the News," given by Valentine Harlock, Hazel Wright and Margaret Goldsmith in place of Anna Byron, who was ill, was much enjoyed. Pauline Hayward recited "Vital Lamp," and "Bully Ann" charmingly, and this was followed by "Saints and Sinners," a short play in which Doreen Burgess and Sheila Allard acquitted themselves with credit.

A very dainty and charming scene was "The Sign of the Cross," in which Barbara Miller, as Cupid, had a little shop in a wood, and Hazel Wright, a demure maiden, came to buy a heart. Billy Inglis and Gordon Reid gave a long extract from Julius Caesar, in costume, their memory work and intelligent reading of character being highly commendable.

DRAMATIC POEM

Miss Ethel B. Bale, always popular, gave a highly dramatic poem with great charm of voice and interpretation. Examples of pantomime were introduced by Miss Jane McCallum, and the ideas she selected were carried into effect with remarkable interpretative skill and individuality by Hazel Wright and Sheila Allard. An exquisite scene from "La Flor de la Vida" provided Miss Peggy Parsons with the part of Auria, previously played here by Mrs. A. D. Ford. Miss Marjory Lane and Miss Noel Cusack. Miss Parsons showed conspicuous talent and looked magnificent as the daughter of a Spanish Grandee. Major Bullock-Webster's rendering of the part of Cellini has met with unstinted praise from the Cornish Theatre, Seattle, and in San Francisco.

PRESENT FARCE

Programme concluded with a farce, excellently given by Miss Peggy Frank, in the leading part, aided by Miss H. E. Pott, Roy Goldfinch, Miss Parsons, Henry Worthington and Miss Pat Porter. Acting as hostesses were Miss Ethel Bale and Miss Muriel C. Thompson, assisted by Miss J. Muriel Pottinger, Miss Richards and Miss Molly Moyer. The stage management and properties were in the capable hands of H. Pott, assisted by Roy Goldfinch; scene shifting, Ian Drum; music, Kenneth Grant; programmes, Ted Coton. Richard Robinson and Douglas Patterson. The costumes were designed and made by Mrs. Walter Harlock.

City & District

Clothing Store—Theft of clothing valued at $131.50 has been reported to the police by Mrs. Cleasby, 422 Dallas Road.

Seeks Seat in Sanneh—Dennis Hoare, 3255 Douglas Street, has announced his intention to run again for councillor for Ward Two, Sanneh. He was a close competitor of the present councillor for the ward, F. J. Crowhurst, in last year's election, and gave his promise at that time to contest the seat for 1931.

Supporters See Mayor—Supporters of Herbert Hancock for mayor held an informal meeting in The Times building yesterday afternoon, at which expressions of confidence were tendered to his candidature. The meeting was largely attended. Arrangements were completed for meetings and getting out the vote on election day.

Williams Meeting Monday—An illustrated lecture by H. A. Carney, former mayor of Prince George, will be given in the Chamber of Commerce auditorium on Monday night, commencing at 8 o'clock. Mr. Carney will lecture on the route of R. T. Williams, candidate for alderman, will address the meeting, and an invitation has been extended to the women candidates to be present.

To Set Fair Dates—Upwards of seventy-five delegates are to convene in Victoria during the week of December 15, to attend the annual meeting of the North Pacific Fair Association. It is announced by W. H. Mearns, secretary of the British Columbia Agricultural Association. The delegates are expected to set the dates for 1931 fairs and carnivals. C. H. Rolston is president of the association and the meetings will be held at the Empress Hotel.

PROFESSOR ASHTON TO LECTURE ON MOLIERE

Professor H. Ashton, M.A., D.Litt., will be the speaker at Thursday's meeting of the University Extension Association, and will deliver a lecture on the French satirist, Moliere. The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides and will be delivered in the Girls' Central School. This is the first appearance before the local organization of Dr. Ashton, but his lecture is eagerly looked forward to by many who know of his reputation as a lecturer.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

As Rover and I were roamin' around and around Central Park, just off that great highway, Quadra Street, the other day, we heard shrieks of youthful laughter (than which is no more joyful sound) from behind the big laurel hedge. Rover dashed through the hedge; I, more sedate, as becomes my advanced age, walked round and about it; and we saw large numbers of merry kiddies disporting themselves in the Wading Pool. There were alighted Canadiana, dark-eyed little ones of Latin parentage, and one small crinkly-haired colored child, all enjoying themselves, bless 'em!

"What a wonderful thing that Wading Pool is," said I to a passer-by. "It is a good mixer and a laver away of prejudices too. Who built that friendship pool?" And then he told me the story of the pool, and how, and I passed them along, for everyone should know about the good work the service clubs do for the kiddies in old Victoria.

The Kiwanis Club members built the wading pool we were standing beside, not theoretically but actually, excavating, levelling, cementing and so forth, and they also built the fine one in Beacon Hill Park, connecting it to the salt water main that supplies the sea water for the Crystal Pool, thus crystallizing their kind thoughts for children into concrete form and cementing their love for the young with consideration for their children's joys.

All this time Rover wore a look of disdain, and I, who can read his thoughts, just as he can mine, understood him to say: "Why should they have that service club they are so proud of? They are not good enough for a swim for the boss—and ME?" ("Thanks, old chap!" I telephoned back to him, "but it's too cold for a swim like me.") But of course he knew in his heart the reason the water is only a foot deep; it is because the men of the service clubs know a thing or two about mothers as well as about kids, and they don't want mothers to worry about their kiddies when they are paddling and splashing around in the pools provided in our parks by the good old service clubs. "Isn't that right, Rover?" I asked. And he said back, "You betcha life. So it must be so!"

(Mr. Editor, forgive me, but I've such a LOT to say about the service clubs, I'll need extra space, please.)

A SIMPLE, SAFE AND RELIABLE WAY THAT CALES FOR NO TOLLY TRUMPETS, PHONES OR OTHER INSTRUMENTS

To have catarrhal deafness is very annoying and embarrassing. People who are deaf in this way are generally much sensitive on this subject. And yet many catarrhal deaf folks carry round instruments that call attention to their infirmity. Therefore people who are hard of hearing, who suffer from head noises or who are actually deaf from catarrhal trouble, will be glad to know of a simple treatment that can be easily made up at home for a few cents cost that is really a miracle in relieving the distressing catarrhal deafness and head noises caused by catarrh.

From any druggist get one ounce of Permut (double strength). Take this one and put it into a simple glass of 4 pints of hot water and a little ordinary sugar. Take a tablespoonful four times a day.

This treatment should be taken as soon as the inflammation has been removed, and with the inflammation gone the distressing head noises, headaches, cloudy thinking and that dull feeling in the ears should disappear. Any one who suffers from catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises should give Permut a trial. It is pleasant to take and quite inexpensive.

Have You an Old Piano or Radio?

Exchange It for a New Instrument This Christmas

In hundreds of homes there are pianos and radios in which their owners have lost interest and the joyous influence of music is missing because these old instruments are incapable of satisfying their musical requirements.

Christmas is the right time to make the change. We will give you a satisfactory credit for your old piano in exchange for a new Steinway, Heintzman & Co. or Craig. See them in our music rooms, test their glorious tone and learn anew the joy of self-expression on a really fine piano.

Choose a Brunswick or a Victor radio and nothing can mar your enjoyment of broadcast music for at least ten years to come. These are instruments far in advance of competitive designs, far ahead in their naturally brilliant tone, leaders in cabinet beauty, in quality and value. Again we suggest, discard that old, worn-out radio and own a Brunswick or Victor this Christmas. It is an investment you'll never regret.

Clubs and Societies

Daughters of England. Lodge Princess Alexandra No. 18, Daughters of England, held its regular meeting recently in the Sons of England Hall, the worthy president, Mrs. Fieldhouse, presiding. The D.D.G.P., Mrs. McKenzie, was escorted to a seat on the platform. A splendid report of all sick members was given by that committee. Nomination of officers took place during the evening, the following candidates being elected: Worthy president, Mrs. Gorden; worthy past president, Mrs. Fieldhouse; worthy vice-president, Mrs. G. Bridges; worthy secretary, Mrs. F. G. Bridges; worthy treasurer, Mrs. Elanore; chaplain, Mrs. Baker; first guide, Mrs. Gonnell; second guide, Mrs. Cavett; third guide, Mrs. Elwood; fourth guide, Mrs. Tyrrell; inside guard, Mrs. Porter; outside guard, Mrs. Adams; pianist, Mrs. Bell; surgeon, Dr. Bechtel; trustees, Mrs. Hatcher and Mrs. Shrimpton; auditors, Mrs. Swan, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Smith.

Seamen's Institute. Arrangements for Christmas cheer and discussion of relief measures in the present time of need occupied the major portion of the meeting of the Victoria Seamen's Institute on Friday afternoon, the president, Mrs. Alice Thomson, being in the chair. Mrs. J. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Claudet and Mrs. Minnie were appointed a special emergency committee. Reporting the shipping of the Christmas boxes to the lighthouse, Mrs. Thomson said that thirty-three boxes had been sent, and that the candy and books as part of the contents had been specially donated. Mrs. Claudet was thanked for the excellent entertainment given during the annual birthday tea.

Canadian Daughters. The regular business meeting of Canadian Daughters' League No. 5, was held on December 4, in the Shrine Hall. Several new members were initiated and routine work dealt with. A grocery store is to be held at the home of Mrs. R. Moffat, 512 Bimcoe Street, on Friday, for the purpose of collecting articles and packing Christmas hampers for the needy. A social time will follow with games, bridge, etc. Anyone being unable to attend to leave their donations at Stevenson's, Yates Street. A special effort is being made to encourage the purchasing of made-in-Canada goods by members. The next meeting, falling due on January 1, will be postponed to January 15, 1931.

Chapter Holds Bazaar. The Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., held the annual Christmas bazaar yesterday in the Todd Building, Douglas Street. Mrs. Kylie Symons was general convener and the fancywork stall was in charge of Mrs. W. Hyatt. In the evening, Mrs. W. Hyatt, who announced her engagement to Mr. James William Anderson, M.B. Ch.B., F.R.C.S. (Edinburgh), of Nanaimo, only son of the late Mr. H. B. Anderson, of Victoria, was the guest of honor. The bazaar was a success, with a large attendance. The evening was in charge of the dog contest and the dolls were won by Mrs. James Baker and Mrs. Litchfield.

Garden City W.A. A combined guest tea and social gathering was held on Wednesday evening in the Garden City United Church, under the auspices of the Women's Association. Games and competitions were also enjoyed under the direction of Mr. Reuben Hardy, of Victoria, and Mrs. J. Hobden. Tea was served on small tables artistically decorated with chrysanthemums, and a short musical programme enjoyed, which included songs by Miss Mercer, recitation by Mr. Hardy, duet by Mr. and Mrs. R. Clarke and a cornet solo by Mr. Jacques.

Rebekah Lodge. Tuesday evening next will be a gala night for Colfax Rebekah Lodge, No. 1, I.O.O.F., when it will celebrate the forty-third anniversary of the instituting of the lodge. The president of the Rebekah Assembly, Mrs. Agnes Merrithew, of Vancouver, will pay her official visit on this occasion, and there will be the annual roll call. At the close of the business a banquet will be tendered in honor of the president. A cordial invitation is extended to the members of Colfax Rebekah Lodge and all visiting Rebekahs to be present.

Harvey-Boggs Chapter. The members of the Valentine Harvey-Boggs Chapter, I.O.D.E., held a social gathering on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Shanks, Holmes Street. Mr. Bissen, Finlayson Avenue, was announced the winner of the bridge, cloth and tea napkins. A vote of thanks was passed to Mrs. O. Prentice and Mrs. Watson for donating articles. Mrs. Shanks presented Mrs. R. B. McKicking with a bouquet of chrysanthemums and Mrs. Douglas presented flowers to Mrs. Shanks in appreciation of her services.

Fellowship Club. The Fellowship Club will hold a progressive five hundred card party Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hannah Wall to help provide funds for Christmas cheer for the two wards of aged and infirm patients in the Royal Jubilee Hospital. There will be good prizes and refreshments will be served at the close of the games. The public is cordially invited.

Britannia W.A. The Ladies' Auxiliary to Britannia branch, Canadian Legion, will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday next in the clubroom at 715 View Street. All members are asked to attend as business of importance will be discussed.

Girl Guides. The Canadian District Association Victoria Girl Guides will hold the monthly meeting at headquarters, 1012 Langley Street, tomorrow at 5:15 p.m., when a good attendance of members is hoped for.

Alexandra Club. Alexandra Club will hold a guest tea on Tuesday afternoon at the room, Campbell Building. There will be a musical programme and friends of members are invited.

Whist Drive. Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, and the Ladies' Auxiliary will hold their weekly whist drive tomorrow evening in their clubrooms, 715 View Street.

Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter. The monthly meeting of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Duncan, 78 Wellington Avenue, on Tuesday, at 8 p.m.

King's Daughters. The Ready-to-Help Circle of the King's Daughters will meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William Allan, 29 Dallas Avenue.

Victorian Order Nurses. The monthly meeting of the local board of the Victorian Order of Nurses will be held on Tuesday at 420 Cook Street, at 2:30 p.m.

QUADRA P.T.A.

The usual monthly meeting of Quadra P.T.A. will be held in the school annex tomorrow. After the ordinary business has been concluded a talk will be given by F. T. C. Wickett on "The Relative Value of Music in Education." The candidates for school trusteeship will also address the meeting. All members and friends are cordially invited.

Wedding Takes Place At Oak Bay

There was a large congregation of friends yesterday afternoon at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, for the wedding of Dorothy May, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Langley, Cavendish Avenue, and Colonel Richard Olive Cooper, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Alexander Cooper, of Westford, Ireland.

Masses of holy and arbutus were arranged on the chancel rails, and the guest pews were tied with sprigs of holly, lending a festive note to the occasion.

The service was conducted by Canon A. E. J. Neeson, and the wedding marches were played by the organist, Mr. P. T. C. Wickett.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a French mode frock of pearl luster shade. The steeple bodice was fashioned of shirred georgette, and long full skirt and cape-coat were made of silk tulle and lace. She wore a dainty Maude Muller hat of lace to match over a bandeau of turquoise velvet, turned off the face. The drooping back being finished with a blue velvet bow, and she carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia roses and pink and white bouvardia.

Miss Beatrice Langley attended the sister in a pretty frock of light green georgette, made with a long skirt and short coat, with which she wore a small beige hat piped with green, and beige crepe de Chine shoes. She carried a sheaf of shaggy mauve and white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Tom Phillips, of Vancouver, supported the groom, and the ushers were Mr. Jack Langley and Mr. Austin Rees.

A reception was held after the ceremony at 1803 Wilford Place, the home of Miss Mary Cross and Miss Lilla Lowndes, old family friends, which had been beautifully arranged with masses of pink chrysanthemums and greenery for the event. The bride and groom stood to receive their friends in the drawing-room before the fireplace, which had been banked with flowers and ferns and they were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Langley, the latter in a smart French gown of black lace over blue, and a black silk and lace hat underlined with blue. She held a small bouquet of pink roses and violets.

The refreshment table, on which was placed the three-tier bride cake, was arranged with vases of pink carnations and lighted with tall pink candles in silver candelabra. Colonel and Mrs. Cooper left later for Seattle, and after a motor trip in Washington and Oregon, they will make their home at 412 Dallas Road.

For traveling, the bride chose a travel-tweed tailleur in shades of brown with which she wore a simple felt hat to match and a handsome sealskin coat.

SOUTH SAANICH

The South Saanich Women's Farmers' Institute will hold its annual "country store" on Friday evening.

TODAY'S RECIPE

RASPBERRY FINGERS.—Two cups of flour, three-quarters of a cup of sugar, three ounces of butter, one egg, a little salt, one and a half teaspoon of baking powder, a quarter of a teaspoon of soda. Mix the dry ingredients, add egg, butter and sugar, well beaten together. Mix to a soft dough. Divide in half, roll out each portion, spreading one with raspberry jam and placing the other half on top. Cut in fingers when baked in a moderate oven.—Frudence.

Women's Institutes of Vancouver Island

VICTORIA

At the annual meeting of the Victoria Women's Institute, held on Friday, Mrs. J. S. Adam presiding, a report of the year's activities was read, showing that much valuable work had been accomplished. The total receipts amounted to $1,618.34 and the expenditures, $1,487.89. Many donations had been given to deserving charities and interest had been shown in all civic affairs. Letters of thanks were read from Mrs. J. D. Gordon, Miss Mitchell, of the Jubilee Hospital, and the Queen Alexandra Solarium. The sum of $25 was voted towards Christmas cheer. A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Savory for her work as secretary and a plant presented to her. Votes of thanks were also passed to the retiring officers.

LAKE HILL

Students of the poultry class held under the auspices of Lake Hill Women's Institute, entertained at a social hour following their last lesson on Friday evening. The teacher, Mrs. Grute, was the guest of honor. A quantity of work, including bowls, vases, bonbon dishes, etc., which had been made by the students, were on display. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Peddie and Mrs. Findlay presiding at the tea.

Society News From Vancouver

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—Under the patronage of His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Miss Margaret Mackenzie, the Snowball Frolic, held Thursday evening at Hotel Vancouver in aid of The Province Santa Claus Fund, was a great success. His Honor and Miss Mackenzie were accompanied by Captain Hobart Molson, and in the party were Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Hamber, Colonel and Mrs. J. P. Fell, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Griffith, Colonel and Mrs. Blair, Colonel and Mrs. A. T. McLean. The ballroom had been effectively decorated with huge panels depicting Northland scenes—glaciers and snowscapes. Snowflakes in silver tinsel were suspended from the tall ceiling, and a gold blue spotlight added to the detail of the ensemble.

For Mrs. Genge
Mrs. L. Genge, of Victoria, is spending the week-end in this city, having come over Thursday night accompanied by Mrs. Gilbert S. Holt. Ice Carnival A Spectacular Rotary Show

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—With His Honor Lieutenant-Governor R. Randolph Bruce and Miss Margaret MacKenzie in attendance, and participating in three special numbers, Vancouver's annual Rotary ice carnival at the Arena last night, was probably the most successful of any of these big winter features, the first of which was inaugurated seven years ago. Color was added to the proceedings by the appearance of a detachment of the Seaforth Highlanders, under command of Lieutenant Merritt, who acted as a guard of honor.

His Honor received each of the May Queens and their princesses of the year from the cities and municipalities of the Lower Mainland. Skating of all kinds was dished up to the delight of the packed house, the Connaught Skating Club adding much to the success of the evening. The Rotary Club had brought out from Toronto Lella Brooks Potter, of the Parkdale Ladies' Skating Club, and Hattie Donaldson, who competed in two matches, the former winning both. In the second race, a distance of half a mile, Doris Parkes was given a half lap handicap, and after leading for seven laps, she was caught on the final turn by Mrs. Potter. Miss Donaldson taking third place. In the quarter-mile event, Mrs. Potter won the race in 54.5 seconds, but fell four yards from the finish and slid across in front of Miss Donaldson. In the half-mile race, the winner's time was 1:15.3-4.

J.B.A.A. Will Conduct Boxing Day Function

The James Bay Athletic Association will hold another of its popular Boxing Day dances on Friday, December 26, in the Empress Hotel. Music for the dancing will be furnished by a six-piece orchestra, and it is anticipated that the event will be one of the most successful functions ever conducted by the J.B.A.A. organization. Dancing will commence at 8 p.m.

Anniversary Dance

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McAllister celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their wedding on Friday evening at a reception and dance at the New Thought Hall, Fort Street.

Mr. and Mrs. McAllister (formerly Miss Bertha Millman) were married in Vancouver twenty-five years ago and came to Victoria a year later, when they established the Royal Dairy.

Miss Nan Burke and Mr. William Burke, of Vancouver, are among the out-of-town guests attending the McAllister-Burke wedding.

FOWLES-JENKINS

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins, Fernwood Road, when their daughter, Ruth Catherine, was united in marriage to Dr. Eric S. Fowles, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fowles, Beach Drive. Rev. Lionel Kenworthy officiated. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and ivory satin with pearl trimmings and a wreath of orange blossoms in her hair. She carried a bouquet of pale pink roses and Swansonias. She was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. James Jenkins. Miss Isabel White was bridesmaid, wearing a pretty frock of pale yellow moire, and her bridesmaid, Miss Helen and yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. Jack Childs was best man. During the ceremony Mr. A. S. Woolford and Miss Mary P. Jones, "I Love You Truly" and "O Perfect Love." Mrs. M. C. Moore acted as accompanist and played the wedding music. After the service the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Portland. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Woolford, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bonavia, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bonavia, Mr. and Mrs. D. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. J. Robson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. P. Brook, Mr. and Mrs. W. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lenn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Hood, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. J. Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. R. L.O.B.A. Meeting

The regular meeting of Victoria Purple Star Lodge, No. 194, L.O.B.A., was held in the Orange Hall, Worthey, last night. Mrs. Wright presiding. She welcomed Mrs. Langford, honorary member of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of Saskatchewan. Three members were initiated into the sacred degree. Splendid reports were submitted by the various committees.

Shawigan Lake

A delightful masquerade party was held at the home of the "Brownies" under the supervision of Mrs. George Orr and Miss Molly Hawkin. Mr. A. Layton supplied the music for the evening, and games and songs were much enjoyed by the children. Judges for the Grand March were Mrs. Kinloch and Mrs. Curwen. Prizes were won by Jean Taggart, Spanish girl; Billy Fielding, cowboy; and Jimmy Simmons, nigger boy.

OAK BAY CHOIR GIVES CONCERT

A well-attended concert was given by the Oak Bay Church Choir on Friday evening in the church. The concerted numbers by the choir were exceptionally well rendered.

Mrs. Bertram Mayell's solos were given in her usual appealing manner. The Scottish folk song which she gave as an encore number was especially appreciated. She was sympathetically accompanied by Miss Brompton.

O. H. Liewellyn, a lyric tenor of well-known ability, was at his best in the song, "Passing By." G. L. Gray, baritone, delighted the audience with "Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride" and "Ladies of Mine." R. Hardy provided himself an artist of histrionic ability. The dialogue, "Mr. and Mrs. Meek at Home," was a great credit to the choir.

Ernest Semple's string ensemble deserves special mention. The precision and quality of the playing was a great credit to the choir, and those taking part. Miss Marian Hargreaves, at the piano, appended work and was ably supported by Miss H. Hollins, an able pianist.

MAKE YOUR DOLLARS WORK FOR YOU ... AFTER YOU SPEND THEM

NEVER before in the history of British Columbia has there been a greater need for united action in keeping our dollars at home.

The dollars you spend for B.C. Products stay at home and help to create employment. They help to pay the cost of educational facilities, good roads, hospital services, Workmen's Compensation, Mothers' Pensions, law enforcement and many other services which contribute to the peace and prosperity of the people of British Columbia.

Ask for B.C. Products and make your dollars work for you after you spend them.

Be proud to give and proud to receive a "Made-in-B.C." Christmas Gift.

CHAPTER XVI

It was a strange breakfast, and one Noel Fenton would not be likely to forget. Evidently Burr was near to starving. He ate under fierce self-restraint at first, then with the frantic hunger which told of awakening senses. He had actually forgotten to eat—in his state of mental anguish. The hot coffee acted almost like wine, his face flushed, his eyes brightened. He wanted to talk.

Fenton would have preferred silence even though he was prepared for the other's cross-examination. As Burr more firmly grasped the fact that Rosie herself had tricked him by throwing suspicion on Noel Fenton the more infuriated did he become against her betrayer.

"I don't blame my Rosie," he declared, with dogged insistence. "I don't blame my little girl. She was as honest and as open as the day before that. She made me believe she was his. She had been learned her part. But . . . it chokes me to think of finding her . . . in that man's house. Don't leave me alone with him, Mr. Harford. Don't leave me alone—or I'll be killing him. He's a black snake—not fit to live. It chokes me. But my girl—"

Fenton laid his hand on the bowed shoulder.

"You will forgive Rosie?" he said softly. "You will help to bring her home?"

"Forgive!" Burr broke down and sobbed. He loved Rosie—always must love her. The idea of bringing his lost sweetheart home almost, for a time, drove the thought of her betrayer from his mind. He would not be satisfied till he had both arms round his Rosie, defending her, if need be, against the whole world!

Fenton noted his impatience and looked at the clock. They would

Eczema On Hands

Couldn't Put Them in Water

Mrs. Sokoman Bekkop, R.R. No. 1, Nantahala, Ont., writes: "I was troubled with eczema for four years, and it was so bad I could not put my hands in water. I found Burdock Blood Bitters the only medicine that would give me any relief, and after taking four bottles the eczema had all left me. I can now do my own washing, and wish to give thanks to B.B.B. for what it has done for me."

ISLAND COAL IS GOOD COAL

NOT REFINED IN B.C. BUT MINED IN B.C.

NOW, while the Government is asking everybody to support Home Industries, it is well to remember that some B.C. "Products" are not actually produced in British Columbia.

Every dollar involved in the production and distribution of Nanaimo-Wellington and Comox Coal means either wages or profits in the pockets of British Columbians. Because the "raw material" is produced in B.C., all this money stays in British Columbia. The industry therefore is of greater benefit to the community than some others whose raw materials are produced elsewhere.

These are important facts, and more important still is the fact that Island Coal is such an economical fuel. You can actually save money on your heating bills by ordering "Nanaimo-Wellington" or "Comox" for your furnace.

Any of the Approved Dealers listed below will be glad to prove to you that these high-grade coals actually give more heat per dollar.

Remember these things when you are filling your coal bin for the winter.

THE GREATEST HEAT FOR THE FEWEST DOLLARS

flat. They went up in the lift. Fenton did not glance towards his companion after seeing the grey suffering of his face.

The affair was tragic, and Fenton himself was affected strangely by it. He dared not picture the meeting between Rosie and her lover.

The lift man hesitated before taking the lift down again.

"I suppose you know that Mr. Mendrayle left for the Continent early this morning?" he said.

The news came with stunning force. Even Fenton was utterly unprepared for it—but he believed it at once. He knew Ivor Mendrayle, seated in a luxurious traveling car, was probably laughing at this very moment over his clever ruse. The bird had flown. But—what of Rosie?

"Wait," said Fenton, as the attendant was about to lower the lift. "Tell me, did Mr. Mendrayle go alone—or . . . was there . . . a lady?"

The man shrugged his shoulders—with a quick, curious glance towards Burr.

"Mr. Mendrayle was traveling alone," he replied, "they say he went to act for one of the biggest Continental film companies. He's a handi chief. That ought to suit him proper. He's a real man. That's his wife's maid."

An inarticulate groan broke from Burr's lips, but Fenton was still busy with his question. He was planning a ten shilling note into the man's hand he continued.

"Where is Mrs. Mendrayle?" he asked.

The attendant shook his head. "She's always on her own," he explained. "Mr. Mendrayle finances her. I suppose, that's all. She has separate rooms. He's got friends. It's a separate firm as Fanchette says. Mrs. Mendrayle and Fanchette left here last night. I don't know where the lady was going. The girl had a holiday and was going home. Gay as a kitten over it. The lady's not a gay sort. Had that taken out of her, I should say—by our Ivor's goings on. Oh, I could tell you some tales! But it don't pay. Leave the gossip to the women, bless 'em! Not that I blame them. Mrs. Mendrayle's a real lady—and we're all sorry for her. I would go—well, no! I'll keep a quiet tongue. Hope you're satisfied sir."

"One moment," urged Fenton. "Can you tell me what Mrs. Mendrayle is like? Is she young? With fair—"

The attendant shook his head. "Somewhere round forty if she's a day," he replied, "but handsome still. Dark hair and the ways of a queen. Real haughty she looks. Fanchette won't be lying. I reckon when she talks of her temper. All the same, I'm sorry for the poor thing. Women has tricky ways—and you can't attend to no serious business if you goes to study on 'em. But—for all that—it looks to me as if Mrs. Mendrayle had cried her eyes out an' then started to freshen up. She's ice—or stone—now. So Fanchette says. I'll miss Mam-melle whilst they're away. Good-day, gen'l."

The lift sank out of sight leaving the two men alone on the square, paved landing or vestibule. The flat door was locked—it was empty.

Toni Burr had rented her against the wall. Now he straightened himself. His slow brain, paralyzed by disappointment, could not grasp the whole situation, and he instinctively drove him in the direction of a first suspicion.

"It's a trick," he averred huskily. "It's a trick. You heard what he said. Rosie's not here, and never has been here. Where is she? It's a trick, but you've got to answer me. You've got to tell me. You're bringing me to this place. You knew the chap wouldn't be here to answer for himself. He's a friend of yours, maybe. I see it all. You're putting me off. It's lies all through. It's lies about Rosie coming here. Where is she, you tell me that? You tell me that? You know—and no one else does. But I mean to have the truth. Tell me the truth . . . I'm a desperate man."

"You're a fool," answered Fenton. "Go your own mad way if you don't know friend from foe. I've done my best—but the riddle's beyond my solving. Mendrayle could have told us the truth, but he has gone. He has cheated me. If you put his label on me I can't help it. I swear to you I have stated the case honestly. I have done all I could for you—and Rosie. Now I'm checking mate. You must think as you wish."

His tones were convincing. Burr put his arm across his eyes and his frame shook in a convulsive sob.

"I don't know what to think . . . or where to go," he muttered. "The devil's in it all—and Rosie's lost. I must find Rosie . . . and, if she tells me you're the man who's ruined her—I'll swing for it rather than leave such a skunk to darken the earth."

He did not wait for answer or argument to this, but went clattering down the stone stairs.

Fenton followed more slowly. As he had said—it was check—when he had expected victory, but he was not going to give up. His next move would be to advertise—or find—Mrs. Ivor Mendrayle. For that purpose he contrived to have further conversation with the lift attendant before returning to Park Lane. Here, he found Ruth alone in the drawing-room arranging flowers. It was nearly luncheon time, and Lady Helvetia had just started in the car to lunch with some old friends. Ruth looked tired and worried, but brightened at sight of Noel. She ignored his somewhat mysterious absence of the morning and began chatting about the flowers.

"The chrysanthemums are gorgeous this year," she said, "just look at this one—brunze and gold, what a perfect shape. Lady Helvetia is having friends to tea and bridge, so I am to be recklessly extravagant with the flowers, which is just what I love to be. If only I had the chance to live in the country I would never choose London."

It was an invitation for friendly argument, but Fenton did not take it.

"Did Lady Helvetia leave a message for me?" he asked, "or has any other message arrived? I expect several."

"Nothing at all," replied Ruth, "but do sit down and rest till luncheon time. You look frightfully tired."

To her surprise he obeyed, seating himself by the fire, his elbow resting on a small table and his hand supporting his chin.

Ruth finished her floral decoration quickly. Her fingers blundered at their task. She was nervous and clumsy. It was a relief to have finished, and yet she dawdled over the last few flowers, casting sidelong glances towards the silent man by the fireside. She knew Noel was feeling down and out—and she could not leave him alone without a word of sympathy. Yet it required quite a lot of courage to go across and lay a timid hand on that broad shoulder.

"Can't I help?" she pleaded softly. Fenton started. A violent fit of depression had laid his courage low. Everywhere he read failure, the very people he prayed to help were the ones to ignore and despise him. He could have sobbed in disappointment. Was his whole life to be a failure? At least he was gaining experience. Never again would he regard the office of a duke as a mere sinecure. It was too big a post for such as he to fill. It was a hour of humiliation and shame. Ronald Harford—Duke of Delcourt—appeared to Noel Fenton in a totally different light to that of a gay, kindly-natured gentleman who—amused himself.

His thoughts, ranging over a wide field, returned to the narrow limits of present difficulty. The Duke's representative instead of being put to the world straight must expend himself in trying to trace the "one ewe lamb" of a country farmer.

Anyone's Job! Somebody's Job! His own job! The world must be left to straighten itself.

The touch of Ruth Dryle's hand on his shoulder thrilled him. Was it possible he—a strong man and leader of the people—must turn to a woman for inspiration and comfort? He looked up—and rose.

"Rose!" he said; but, before she could reply, the door opened and a butler came in, bringing a card on a silver salver.

"A lady to see you, sir," he said, with a non-committal pomposity belonging to his class.

The touch of Ruth Dryle's hand on his shoulder thrilled him. Was it possible he—a strong man and leader of the people—must turn to a woman for inspiration and comfort? He looked up—and rose.

"Rose!" he said; but, before she could reply, the door opened and a butler came in, bringing a card on a silver salver.

"A lady to see you, sir," he said, with a non-committal pomposity belonging to his class.

HOMER ROGHEAVER BEGINS NEW SERIES

Homer Rogheaver, who for twenty years was the tireless song leader and the vocal and trombone soloist for the noted revivalist, Billy Sunday, inaugurated a new series of biweekly broadcasts over a National Broadcasting Company network last Wednesday evening. The programmes have been titled "Rogheaver Sings."

These presentations are modeled after the "community sings" which are popular in Europe and in parts of the United States. Rogheaver urges the groups around the loud speakers to join in the choruses just as he attempted to get the congregations at the Billy Sunday services to unite in singing the hymns. Familiar gospel songs and ballads constitute the major part of these programmes.

She asked him for a cheque, and that started it.

"Whenever I sit at home," he remarked, "instead of going to the club, you are always waiting money. You seem to think that life is just a game of chess—nothing but cheque, cheque, cheque!"

"So it is, if you don't give it to me," she returned. "It will still be a game of chess, for it will be pawn, pawn, pawn!"

ALL RADIOS ARE NOT ALIKE

More people are buying De Forest Crosley . . . than any other Radio

CANADIANS have decided that all radios are not alike. More of them are deciding every day that only De Forest Crosley gives them everything they want in a radio.

Canada has said (by buying more De Forest Crosleys than any other radio) that:

Harmonic Amplification is the year's greatest radio development.

DC performance has reached new heights.

DC cabinet beauty transcends any past effort of the entire radio industry.

DC values are the greatest in the industry.

The Importance of Acting Now

Naturally, with demand the greatest in the history of the company, there is no surplus of De Forest Crosley radios. Some dealers are even short on certain models. The only way to be sure of enjoying your new De Forest Crosley for Christmas is to see your dealer now.

KAMLOOPS GROWERS OPPOSE SALES PLAN

KAMLOOPS, Dec. 6.—Organized opposition to the central selling proposals for the orderly marketing of fruits and vegetables was voiced at a meeting called by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association here this afternoon.

After the comparative calm and quiet of the five Okanagan gatherings the attitude of the ranch owners was a complete reversal.

Today's meeting not only spurned the resolution of approval of central selling adopted at the other points and passed a resolution all its own against control measures in the dry belt.

The vote in favor of this resolution was forty-three, with seven against. This vote was exactly reversed when the resolution of approval of the principle of central selling, which has been carried at all other meetings, was put up.

AVIATRIX MAKES LONG WATER HOP

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 6.—The record-setting airplane of Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller was brought to Miami today by her and her flying partner, Captain W. N. Lancaster.

They arrived late today from Andros Island, where the plane had rested since Mrs. Keith-Miller said she was forced to pancake it in the face of a gale a week ago Friday as she attempted to fly from Havana to Miami.

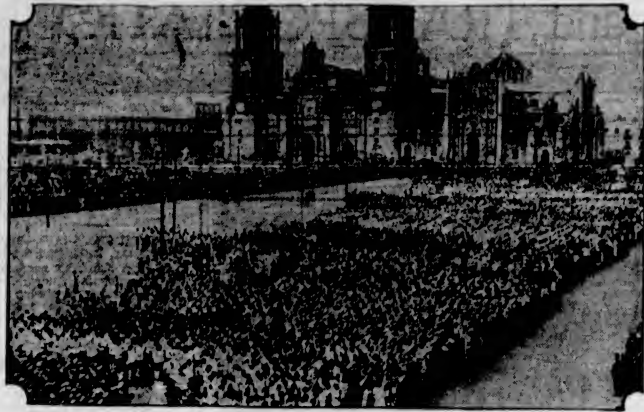

The woman flyer said she planned to fly from here to Pittsburgh the first of the week to complete a round-trip Pittsburgh-Havana flight.

EXPECT EVERY VOTER TO VOTE ON THURSDAY

The Victoria Gyro Club is again advocating an active interest in civic affairs by urging all registered voters to attend the polls at the civic elections next Thursday. Interest is centering chiefly about the mayoralty contest, and with thirteen candidates running for five vacancies on the council, five for three seats in the school board, and three for the one opening on the police commission, it is expected that a big poll will be recorded.

Golf Notes From Tees and Greens in Canada

By RALPH H. REVILLE
(Special to The Colonist, Copyright 1930.)

TORONTO, Dec. 6 (SNS).—In previous Winters the Indoor Golf School has been quite popular in the larger golfing centres such as Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. This year, however, every city and many smaller towns have installed indoor courses. They will not be nearly as numerous as the "Pee-wee" courses last summer but they will be very much in evidence from coast to coast. Some of these indoor institutions are quite elaborate affairs costing as much as $5,000 to install. From the standpoint of learning and perfecting the game they are infinitely to be preferred to the "Tom Thumb" courses so popular the past season. They do permit of a good short game being developed, and the short game after all wins the majority of golf championships.

It is only a few weeks now—January 1, next, before the new ball becomes legalized in the States. It measures 1.68 inches in diameter and weighs 1.55 ounces and is, therefore, both larger and lighter than the ball which has been used by all golfers the past five years. Bobby Jones is strongly in favor of the new ball and so is Cyril Tolley, the ex-amateur champion of Great Britain who in a recent match with Jones had several drives over 300 yards, and the chief complaint has always been that the new ball would cut many yards off the drive, but then it must be remembered to legalize the new ball. Canadian golfers the coming year will play as usual with the ball 1.62 both in weight and diameter, which has been so popular for the past few years. If, however, Canadians enter any competitions in the States in 1931, which several of them undoubtedly will do, they will have to conform to the United States conditions and play with the new 1.55-ounce ball. Americans on the other hand playing in Canada will be permitted to use either ball. In international contests the situation will certainly be confusing.

There has been a movement afoot to induce some of the leading British lady players to join in the golfing festivals in the Southern States this winter. Miss Enid Wilson, the English lady champion is one who is invited to make the trip, but there is little likelihood of any of the British players accepting the invitation to be the guests of the promoters of tournaments there. Old Country golfers have a strict regard for their amateur status, and since it is obvious that they are to be invited as an attraction, they have some doubt about making the trip, pleasant though it may be, during the winter months.

Fire has dealt rather harshly the last few years with prominent golf clubs in Canada. In Victoria, B.C., the Victoria Golf Club and the Colwood Golf Club both lost their homes as a result of conflagrations. The spacious clubhouse of the Beaconsfield Golf Club, Mon-tered by insurance. In the meantime the professionals' shop, a good-sized building which remains intact and which was only erected two years ago and the large drive shed will be put into shape by the directors of the club for the temporary use of the members this winter.

They are even playing golf in Turkey now. British and American officials resident there have started a club near Constantinople, and some of the "Unspeakeable Turks" are also taking up the game. A leading Pasha was recently the chief guest at a golf dinner there and he made a great hit when he prefaced his speech in acknowledging the great reception accorded him by saying, and saying slowly, "Gentlemen, I'm nae sae fou, but my heart is fou." Then having exhausted his "Scotch," he sat down. He certainly is the vernacular "went over, and went over big."

Already the trek on the part of the Canadian golfers to winter resorts has commenced, several prominent residents of Montreal and Toronto having left this month for Bermuda, California, and other places, where they can continue to pursue their favorite game, sans snow and sans cold. The big exodus, however, will not take place until after Christmas and New Year's. Several thousand Canadian golfers now spend the winter in the South and Bermuda and Jamaica, the latter island having recently greatly increased its golfing facilities. As usual, Nicol Thompson, of Hamilton, and Andy Kay, of London, will have professional positions in Bermuda, and George Cumming and his son, Lou Cumming, in Jamaica. Karl Kieffer, of the Royal Ottawa, and C. R. Murray, of the Royal Montreal, leave next month to take over pro jobs in Florida. W. M. Freeman, of Toronto, goes to the Barbadoes, and John Peacock, of St. Andrews, N.B., to Pinehurst, N.C. These winter positions are much coveted by the leading pros, both in Canada and the States as they are alike lucrative and enjoyable berths.

Mr. Samuel Ryder, the rich English merchant, donor of the Ryder Cup for competition among the professionals of Great Britain, and the United States, has, in company

Golfers in Canada, many of them at least, are still under the impression that this new United States official ball after January 1, will have to be used in this country. This is entirely wrong. The Royal Canadian Golf Association, following as it nearly always does the rulings of the Royal and Ancient, has refused

Well-Known Concern States Reasons for Success

The world-wide fame of Bovril is attributed by the Company to two main factors; first, a high quality product and next, forceful publicity in newspapers and magazines, carefully chosen because of the prestige of the medium used.

The Bovril Company uses only those newspapers and publications which prove themselves to have first class reader interest, and which are recognized as in the first rank in prestige among the general public.

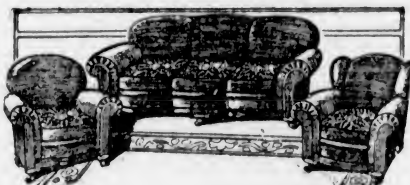

The Bovril Company, having a first class product, only associate their advertising with first class mediums. The fact that this message of food quality and the strength-giving virtues of their famous product, appear in this journal, is evidence backed by dollars and cents, that this publication is a medium which always gets results for a worth-while product.

trial, last year went up in smoke and now on Thanksgiving Day that of the Royal Ottawa Golf Club which in 1909 was also burnt to the ground.

The Royal Ottawa was especially a charming building which during the past twenty years has housed not only Governors-General and their wives, Judges of the Supreme Court and members of the Diplomatic Corps but the Prince of Wales and other royalties not to mention Ramsay MacDonald, Premier of Great Britain, Lloyd George, ex-Premier, the late former United States President, W. H. Taft, and other world-wide celebrities. There is other club in Canada, golfing or otherwise that in its time has entertained more distinguished guests.

It is very satisfactory to know that thanks to the efforts of Lord and Lady Willingdon, who were lunching at the time at the club, Sir George Perley Acting Prime Minister, Sir Robert Borden former Prime Minister, and scores of willing workers not forgetting many caddies, that all the historical golfing pictures and cups, which could not possibly have been replaced were saved. Until the insurance adjusters complete their work a definite line of policy with regard to rebuilding cannot be decided upon but it can be taken for granted that the Royal Ottawa Clubhouse will rise from its ashes Phoenix-like, bigger and better than ever. Liquor Vessels Find They Can Operate From Panama Canal Zone

CLEAR CONTRABAND

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6.—With Vancouver and other Canadian ports on this coast closed to exports of liquor for United States consumption, the importers of the fluids now have gone to the protection of the United States flag for a new base. This unusual development, which took place early in November, has aroused indignation in the press of the Canal Zone, but this had no effect on the parties actively interested. The liquor was landed, warehoused, handled with care and willingness by the United States Railway in the Canal Zone, and finally loaded on supply ships that are serving the West Coast market from stations far at sea off the Mexican and California coasts.

St. Pierre de Miquelon, under the French flag, and located off the Atlantic coast of Canada, has been the chief base for the liquor trade since

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of Pile sufferers have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salvas nor cutting remove the cause.

Had circulation of the blood in the lower bowel vessels weak—the parts almost dead. To end this an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation and strengthen the affected parts.

Dr. J. A. Leonard's Pile Remedy, a powerful laxative, was used to discover a real internal Pile remedy. It was prescribed for 1000 patients with the most serious cases of Piles and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get relief from their own druggist with a Pile Remedy.

Dr. Leonard's prescription has a wonderful effect on Piles. It cures Piles, Hemorrhoids, and Macularia and Vancouver Drug Stores have every Pile Remedy. It is a Pile Remedy, and guarantees to refund the purchase price if it does not end all Pile misery. (Advt.)

"Homecrafts" Feature Locally Made Goods

Unique Display of Home-Made Articles Sold by New Establishment

Though it has long been apparent that Victoria holds many craftsmen and artists capable of producing novelties, assured of a good market, yet until the establishment of the new store "Homecrafts," there has been no organized method of retail and display. Miss W. Gilmer and Miss A. Gilmer, both of this city, have taken the enterprising step of opening a store specially devoted to this work, calling it the "Homecrafts."

The opening date is set for tomorrow, in newly-decorated premises, 1126 Broad Street, directly opposite Spencer's. The shelves will be crowded with locally made novelties, reasonably priced to appeal to the Christmas shopper. Great care has been expended on the interior finish and decoration and the varied stock of different items and knitted goods will be shown to the best of advantage.

The Misses Gilmer have been actuated by the knowledge that it only needs the establishment of a proper market for these goods to develop a steady industry here in Victoria along these lines. All goods will be handled on a commission basis. The two proprietresses are well-known throughout the city and their many friends join in wishing them every success in their new venture.

Bonnie Prince Charlie's Liqueur

The recipe was given to a Lord of the Isles by Prince Charles Stuart, after Culloden in 1745. For 175 years the secret stayed in one family. Now Drambuie is a world-wide favorite—and is on sale in Canada for you.

Eastern Canadian ports were closed to it. The closing of the Canadian ports to this traffic, in an effort to aid the United States Government in fighting the trade, brought warm commendation from Washington only a week ago. Now comes the news that the United States flag protects the new base.

After carefully investigating the possibilities at the Canal Zone, which is administered by United States, the liquor importers decided to test out the project. Under treaty with powers signatory to the Panama Canal administration it is not possible for United States to bar or interfere in any way with goods which are shipped in transit to the Canal Zone and which can be carried legally by the parties to the treaty.

RATEPAYERS TO HEAR CANDIDATES' APPEAL

Four Meetings Scheduled With First One Tonight—Hilling Takes Place on Thursday

The twenty-three candidates seeking the ten vacant offices on Victoria's boards of administration, will swing into action for the final phase of the annual municipal election tonight, when Mrs. Joseph North, candidate for Police Commissioner, will hold a meeting at the Playhouse Theatre at 8:45 o'clock. Meetings are scheduled for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, the latter two to be taken up by the majority candidates, Herbert Anson and John Dean. It is altogether unlikely that the two will appear in the same meeting. Mayor Anson will hold his meeting on Wednesday night, when he will give the ratepayers a review of the work of his council during the past year and will also touch on some of the proposals for the future, but he will not disclose the nature of the proposals until the night of the meeting, it was learned yesterday afternoon, following a meeting of the committee. The Mayor's meeting will be in the Chamber of Commerce at 8 o'clock. Mr. Dean will hold a meeting in the Royal Victoria Theatre on Tuesday night and will officially state his programme and the policies he intends to ask the ratepayers to endorse. His meeting will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

R. T. Williams, a candidate for the City Council, is holding a meeting Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce, at which H. A. Carney, former Mayor of Prince George, will speak. Women candidates for the council have been invited to attend and address the meeting.

Welsh Society Meets

A pleasant time was spent in St. David's Hall last night, when members of the Cymrodorion Society met to congratulate Mrs. Kempton (nee Griffiths) on the anniversary of her wedding. On behalf of the society Mrs. R. T. Williams presented her with a silver cake stand and salad bowl. Mr. W. A. Curney also spoke and wished her happiness. Mrs. Kempton suitably replied. A buffet supper was served by Mrs. R. T. Williams and Mr. Vivian James, after which dancing was indulged in to music played by Miss Jessie Jones, A.L.C.M., and Miss Edith Targett.

Among those present were: Mrs. Griffiths, Mrs. Love, A. Smeade, P. Thom, Eddie Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Curney, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Jones, Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Jane Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Williams, Mrs. M. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. L. Lewis, Mrs. C. Venet, Miss Winnie Griffiths, Mrs. Kempton, D. Lace Adds Glamour to Evening Mode

A BEAUTIFUL gown of Chantilly lace enriched by a row of black velvet flowers extending from the neckline to the knee, No. 1. The same velvet runs through the lace at the waistline and forms an interesting girdle. Pale flesh tulle crushed at the neckline and fluttering from the wrists completes the gown, which is sketched by Marie Marot. No. 2, A lovely gown of black transparent velvet, relying for its trimming simply on velvet flowers. The high georgette yoke is flesh colored. No. 3, In this gown of Firenze red transparent velvet, the bands which cross both front and back and disappear into fan plaits falling uncomplainingly to the floor are the only decoration. No. 4, A Marie Marot sketch of dark red chiffon patterned in red sequins typifies the shimmering effects which the season demands for some evening gowns. The crushed girdle of dark red velvet is held by an ornament of ruby stones. Ruby red is one of the most popular colors of the evening mode.

DISPATCH SAYS SHIP SINKS AND 300 DROWN

SHANGHAI, Dec. 7 (CP).—An unverified dispatch from Hankow to The Shanghai Post, an English language newspaper, yesterday said the Chinese steamer Sienlao sank near Sinti, 100 miles above Hankow, drowning 300 Chinese.

Only five Chinese escaped, the dispatch says, which was a translation from the Chinese press.

Usually reliable sources of information on the upper Yangtze River, in which the steamer was reported to have foundered, stated they had heard nothing of the sinking.

VICTORIA ARTIST'S WORK SINGLED OUT FOR SPECIAL NOTICE

SEATTLE, Dec. 6 (AP).—"Modern, conservative, antique, and ordinary" is the way current exhibits at the Seattle Art Institute are being classified.

The paintings of Emily Carr, an artist of Victoria, in watercolor and oil, are conservative and semi-modern. Her finest picture in the exhibit, according to several critics, is one called "Vanquished," while several of her others, depicting Indian subjects, are attracting attention among them: "Potlatch Wedding," "Queen Charlotte Island Welcome," and "Old Indian." Her paintings will be shown at the institute until January 4.

Wash drawings and lithographs by Jose Orozco, a Mexican artist who has never left the American continent, also are on exhibition, as are the screens and flower pictures of Ann Nash. An exhibition of Mexican crafts and arts occupies one portion of the gallery, and the Horuchi collection of Japanese hand idols, old porcelain, lacquer carvings, hand mirrors, powder cases, jade and antiques is continuing.

The Henry Gallery, University of Washington campus, will show modern French paintings until December 20, while graphic art exhibits are being shown at the Harry Hansen Gallery. Reproductions of modern architecture, sculpture, and design will be on view at the main branch of the Seattle Public Library until December 15.

HUNT CLUB MEETS

The Victoria Hunt and Riding Club met yesterday afternoon at the Willows and enjoyed an excellent paper chase over an entirely new course, which was laid by Miss Margaret Homer Dixon and Miss Rowena Horsey. Later the members were entertained to tea by Miss Mary Hunter, 957 Moss Street. Those present were Mrs. Dugald Gillespie, Mrs. F. Homer Dixon, Mrs. Humphrey Baynes, Mrs. D. St. G. Lindsay, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. T. H. Burns, Mrs. H. G. Garrett, Mrs. MacAnally, Mrs. and Mr. J. Macallan, Mr. J. Hunter, Mr. Douglas Hunter, the Misses Margaret Homer Dixon, Rowena Horsey, Mary Hunter, Elizabeth Garrett, Richard and John Garrett.

McLeod Company Bids Farewell to City Playgoers

BIDDING farewell to a packed house at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening, Mr. Gordon McLeod, on behalf of his company, expressed genuine regret and disappointment that circumstances necessitated their departure from Victoria. He thanked the audience for its support, adding that he had hoped to make the company's stay in Victoria a much longer one, but that "the fates had decreed otherwise." As a parting word he hoped that the audience would attend the performance of "Marigold," a delightful Scottish comedy, which opens at the theatre on Christmas Day. Miss Christine received many beautiful baskets and bouquets of flowers from her Victoria friends.

The Victoria Hunt and Riding Club met yesterday afternoon at the Willows and enjoyed an excellent paper chase over an entirely new course, which was laid by Miss Margaret Homer Dixon and Miss Rowena Horsey. Later the members were entertained to tea by Miss Mary Hunter, 957 Moss Street. Those present were Mrs. Dugald Gillespie, Mrs. F. Homer Dixon, Mrs. Humphrey Baynes, Mrs. D. St. G. Lindsay, Mrs. Holden, Mrs. T. H. Burns, Mrs. H. G. Garrett, Mrs. MacAnally, Mrs. and Mr. J. Macallan, Mr. J. Hunter, Mr. Douglas Hunter, the Misses Margaret Homer Dixon, Rowena Horsey, Mary Hunter, Elizabeth Garrett, Richard and John Garrett.

"There is nothing so satisfactory as a clear conscience." "No," answered Senator Sorghum; "and the next best thing is a good lawyer."

McLeod Company Bids Farewell to City Playgoers

BIDDING farewell to a packed house at the Royal Victoria Theatre last evening, Mr. Gordon McLeod, on behalf of his company, expressed genuine regret and disappointment that circumstances necessitated their departure from Victoria. He thanked the audience for its support, adding that he had hoped to make the company's stay in Victoria a much longer one, but that "the fates had decreed otherwise." As a parting word he hoped that the audience would attend the performance of "Marigold," a delightful Scottish comedy, which opens at the theatre on Christmas Day. Miss Christine received many beautiful baskets and bouquets of flowers from her Victoria friends.

AUSTRALIAN PARTY HERE IN JANUARY

Returning From Imperial Conference, Prominent Visitors Will Address Local Organizations

VANCOUVER, Dec. 6 (CP).—Hon. Parker J. Moloney, Minister of Markets and Transport in the Commonwealth Government of Australia, will reach Vancouver on January 4, en route to Australia from the Imperial Conference. With him party he will sail on the Aorangi from Victoria on January 7.

He will be accompanied by E. Abbott, deputy commissioner-general of customs in Australia; L. R. MacGregor, Australian trade commissioner to Canada; C. B. Parker, secretary to the minister; Mrs. Moloney and Mrs. Abbott.

Tentative plans for their stay at the Coast include a joint luncheon meeting of the Vancouver Board of Trade and the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Hotel Vancouver on Monday, January 5, and a similar luncheon at Victoria on January 7, under joint auspices of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and Victoria service clubs. A trip to Powell River to inspect the paper mills there may be made on the intervening Tuesday.

New Year's Eve Dance

The officers of the Canadian Scottish Regiment have decided this year to hold a New Year's ball at the Armory. Owing to the shortness of time and the demand for tickets, applications with full names and addresses should reach the secretary, Captain G. Barton, not later than tomorrow, upon receipt of which invitations will be issued. It is understood that applications will receive consideration in turn, and immediate notification will be given should the limit of 250 be reached.

14,579,820 Bottles Used by 4 Million Women to Darken Hair

so it must be the better way

If you are looking for a way to restore gray hair to its natural youth color... don't endanger the health of hair or take chances on its appearance by experimenting with a new and untried preparation. You don't have to. Here's the restorer that has been used successfully by more than four million women who refuse to be gray. They will all tell you it is the surest and very quickest way to give hair the exact shade you desire—without harming the hair or scalp in the least. As a matter of fact it darkens the hair so evenly and naturally that no one will ever know. So don't take foolish chances with your hair. Just ask any druggist for a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. (Advt.)

HAD TO GO TO SEA AGAIN

Rheumatism or No Rheumatism

BUT KRUSCHEN KEPT HIM FREE FROM PAIN

This skipper of a steam trawler was "up against it." He had rheumatism, and his doctor said he must not go to sea. But times were hard, and he was forced to go afloat again. That was two years ago. Now see what he says:

"I go to sea and two years ago I was laid up for six months with very much suffering from rheumatism and general breakdown, and was forbidden by my doctor to go to sea, or to touch water. But it was 'Hobson's Choice' with me. There was so much unemployment I was forced to get somewhere. So I am still here weathering the storms of the last two winters, and I can honestly say I have never felt the slightest pain from my old complaint, since I started two years ago to take Kruschen Salts. I wish Kruschen every success, and you may make whatever use you think fit of this letter."—Skipper J. J.

It is common knowledge that rheumatism is associated with an excess of uric acid in the system. Uric acid is composed of needle-like crystals, and the pain of rheumatism is caused by these "needles" settling down in the joints, muscles and tendons.

Kruschen is a powerful solvent of these torturing crystals. It swiftly dissolves their sharp edges, then expels them from the system. Your pains cease; swellings subside, knotted joints become loose. Afterwards, the "little daily dose" so stimulates the liver and kidneys that regular and complete elimination is ensured. Your inside is kept clean. Mischievous uric acid never gets the chance to accumulate again.

Start on Kruschen to-morrow. Keep up "the little daily dose" and you'll soon joyfully agree with thousands of others that rheumatism meets its master in Kruschen.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

A negro boatman in charge of a ferry in one of the Southern States of America was accosted by a stranger who wanted to cross, but had not the money to pay. Old Sambo scratched his woolly head perplexedly, then asked, "Don't you got no money at all?" "No," was the dejected reply. "But it doan cost yo' but three cents to cross," insisted Sambo. "I know, but I ain't got three cents." "I done tell you what, said Sambo, after a pause. 'A man what ain't got three cents am jes' as well off on this side ob de ribber as on de odder!'"

A man who had been waiting patiently in the postoffice could not attract the attention of either of the girls behind the counter. "The evening cloak," explained one of the girls to her companion, "was a redingote in gorgeous brocade, with fox fur and wide pagoda sleeves." At this point the long suffering customer broke in with: "I wonder if you could provide me with a neat red stamp with a dinky perforated hem, the tout ensemble treated on the reverse with gum arabic? Something about two cents."

If in the above deal, the North and South players bid for a grand slam in Spades, the majority of average players fail to make their contract by one trick. The fact that a grand slam can be made by good playing, and fall with poor play, in connection with the fact that a small slam can easily be made, emphasizes the point that I have frequently brought out: namely, that doubtful slam bids should not be indulged in by indifferent players.

The fact that a grand slam can be made in this particular hand is the result of a "squeeze" play, and the further fact that one of the adversaries held the outstanding strength in the three side suits.

In my estimation a small or a grand slam is never soundly bidable when its accomplishment is dependent on a "squeeze" play.

SALENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING

Contract: South, with nine es-established tricks in the Spade suit, opens with a pre-emptive bid of four Spades. West passing, North carries the bidding one trick beyond a game contract by bidding five Spades. This is a direct invitation for South to bid the Slam side suit warrant so doing. East passing, South accepts the invitation by bidding six Spades, concluding the bidding.

THE PLAY
West leads the Jack of Clubs. The Dummy going down, South wins the trick with the Ace in the Dummy. South can count twelve tricks in the combined hands, and a thirteenth is possible if the Diamond finesse should prove to be successful. Such finesse can, however, be deferred, as there also exists a possible grand slam by means of a "squeeze" play, should East Heart and the Queen of Diamonds. So considered, South, after winning the first trick with the Ace of Clubs in the Dummy, lays down eight rounds of Spades. On the eighth Spade lead, as shown by the diagram below, East is forced to discard either the Ace of Hearts, the King of Clubs or protection in the Diamond suit.

It matters not what card East discards, as Declarer will win the balance of the tricks.

old style of chess and much more interesting and explainable than the modern style which subordinates the classical and its strategic ideas for the dull and waiting type that often is not dependent upon some fine weakness in the order of development on either side, which prepared analysis can take advantage of eventually. If known, the game is usually drawn. It is not real fighting chess which the chess world admires.

Southern Union Championship—Cambridgehire vs. Norfolk resulted in a tie with 9 all. Berkshire beat Bedfordshire by 9 to 6. Somerset won from Gloucester with 8-7½, the usual score when these two meet. The result of adjudication gave the final result of the Sussex vs. Surrey as 30½ to the former and 19½ to Surrey.

Midland Union—Warwickshire beat Stafford by 6½-3½, with 2 games for the judge.

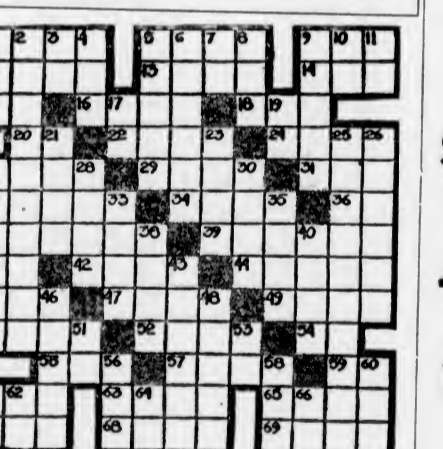

Scotland—The Richardson Cup—Edinburgh Ladies vs. Greenock. The ladies found Greenock too good for them, but the defeat was not so sweeping in character as the game score suggests (5 to 2). The games were stubbornly contested and even affairs, with just that little finesse apparent on the Greenock players part, which spelt victory.—Edinburgh Weekly Scotsman.

United States—Harvard vs. Yale. The annual match was won by Harvard, 4½ to 3½. Martin Stark, the Crimson captain, and Harvard, Yale and Princeton champion, defeated Melvin Fennel.

"SAGITTARIUS"

If December 7 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 9 a.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The signs indicate a worried mental state on this date, and there will be more of a tendency to rehash the perplexities of the past week, than to relax. "Every tomorrow has two hands; we can take hold of the handle of anxiety or the handle of faith."

The child born on this December 7 will have a positive, combative character, and it will not take its defeat lying down. It will be an indefatigable worker and a practical one.

It is not probable that you will fulfill the promises of your youth, or will ever reach the peak to which Destiny and Nature intended you to climb. You can do things, but you don't. You could climb, but it easier not to. There is a price for every achievement—there is no discount, and you are looking for bargains which do not exist. It would be difficult to concede that you are mentally lazy. You talk big things, whilst you do little things.

You have excellent taste, pleasing manners, a hospitable nature, and can make a good showing out of very scrappy materials. You can appear like a millionaire, although your pockets be riddled with holes. Your pride and your spirits can never be pauperized. People love you for the sunshine of your soul, the gentleness of your words, and the kindness of your heart. You are not a failure, in the bigger sense of the word, for you create happiness, and are the recipient of the blessings of contentment. (a) When a player is tackled in the field of play he must immediately put down the ball between himself and his opponent's goal line.

(b) When a player is tackled the ball must be brought into play with the foot.

(c) No player shall pick up the ball after a tackled player has put it down, before it has been played with the foot.

(d) The tackled player, if lying on the ground, must immediately roll away from the ball and get up before playing it with the foot.

(e) No player shall prevent such tackled player from getting up or putting the ball down.

(f) No player lying on the ground after a tackle shall interfere with the ball in any way until it has been played with the foot.

PENALTY.
Penalty kick awarded at the place of infringement.

If a player carrying the ball be thrown or knocked over, but not tackled, he may nevertheless pass the ball or get up and continue his run, even though the ball has touched the ground.

The board has given the following decisions on the facts stated:

(1) A player holding the ball is grasped by an opponent and is brought to the ground, but is not sufficiently held to prevent his passing the ball. May he do so?

(a) If the ball has not touched the ground? Answer, yes. (b) If the ball has touched the ground? Answer, yes.

(2) A player holding the ball is grasped and brought down by an opponent and the ball touches the ground, but the player is not sufficiently held to prevent him lifting the ball and placing it over the line. Should a try be allowed? Answer, yes.

(3) A player holding the ball running for the line is grasped by an opponent and brought down, the ball touching the ground outside the line, but both player and ball, without ever coming to rest, slide over the line. Should a try be allowed? Answer, yes.

From the above it will be seen that the board has placed a very rigid interpretation of the definition of a tackle, which allows the active player, who is able to keep the game going through, though he may have been temporarily checked, to do so. While this interpretation is undoubtedly a great help in keeping the game moving, it has its drawbacks; the greatest of which is the onus it puts on the referee in deciding whether the player has been tackled or not; that is to say, whether there was ever a moment when he could not pass the ball or play it. Human nature being what it is, there are bound to be differences in the decisions given by different referees, and possibly by the same referee in the same game. He may be lenient in one case and the reverse in another, according to circumstances. It is therefore advisable for players when thrown to the ground, to take for granted that they are tackled and put the ball down, or roll away from it accordingly. A pass from the ground can never be a very safe play, and the risk of incurring a penalty is too great to offset the possible gain by such a pass. Further, players who at present tackle in the correct way, round the lower part of the body and legs, and bring their man down with the ball, only to find that he has been able to pass the ball when he reaches the ground, are apt to change into high tacklers in order that they may smother the ball with the man; and as a result accidents are likely to occur. They may even give up tackling altogether, and rely on interception, or what is worse, grabbing the ball out of the hands of their opponents. It would seem, therefore, that captains and coaches should instruct their teams to part with the ball in the proper manner whenever there is any doubt as to whether they were or were not tackled; for there is really no doubt when they are not tackled, but merely thrown to the ground.

Attention should also be drawn to the clause that deals with the player who won't let a man get up or put the ball down. That includes the player who attempts to drag the ball out of the hands of an opponent. He is preventing him from putting it down, and can be penalized accordingly. Both infringements are very prevalent in local games and should be stopped.

Referees are specifically instructed to penalize players who do not immediately roll away from the ball after being tackled, and also those players who prevent him from doing so; for it is at such times that accidents occur. There would be no necessity of kicking a man off the ball if he played according to the rules of the game; and, while the sympathy of most referees who have been players themselves, is for the man who does the kicking, such tactics would not have to be resorted to if the referee enforced the penalty at once.

"INNER CIRCLE" MAY LINK MANCHESTER'S UNDERGROUND LINES

Members and officials of the Manchester Corporation recently met four representatives of the London, Midland & Scottish Railway Company in conference to discuss the Corporation's Underground Railway Committee's scheme for tubes linking up existing central and suburban stations by an "inner circle." After the meeting Councillor Walker indicated that the conference had canvassed the relative merits of two alternative schemes, and that a further meeting between the representatives of the corporation and the railway company would be held.

It is understood that, in contradistinction to the corporation's "inner circle" scheme, the railway company inclines to a general electrification of the existing suburban lines with some linking member. The electrification of the Manchester and South Junction line to Altrincham is already in progress.

CLEARED AND FENCED LAND IS PROVIDED FOR SETTLERS IN N.Z.

The New Zealand Government is trying the experiment of ploughing, grassing and fencing virgin back-blocks land before putting settlers on it. This is in accordance with an amending Land Act passed by the Government last year.

Improved Crown lands the settler has been expected to do everything for himself in the way of breaking in the land, though the Government has helped him with cheap money and in other ways. But it is con- tended that the long period of wait- ing before the land becomes pro- ductive seriously increases the amount of capital that a farmer must have. The Government is experimenting with the new method on a block of land fifteen miles from Rotorua. One-half of each holding of 200 acres is being broken in by clear- ing, plowing and grassing, and ring fences and shelter belts of trees are also provided. The estimated cost of this development is $7 16s an

FOOTPRINTS OF DINOSAURS ARE FOUND IN NORTH

Huge Reptiles Believed to Have Roamed Through
Peace River District

FIVE DIFFERENT TYPES OF TRACKS FOUND

OTTAWA, Dec. 6 (CP).—Far up the Peace River in British Columbia, among the foothills of the Rocky Mountains, C. M. Sternberg, Canadian Government paleontologist, has discovered the footprints of dinosaurs, huge reptiles that roamed over parts of the North American continent millions of years ago. It is the most northerly point in the world where dinosaurs are known to have existed, and their discovery throws considerable new light on the life habits of these prehistoric animals.

More than four hundred tracks were found in the rocks, made by at least five distinct species of dinosaurs. They range from six inches in length to twenty-five inches. The largest tracks were made by an animal at least thirty-five feet long and the smallest by a creature about twelve feet long. Mr. Sternberg prepared moulds of some of the tracks and these show the largest to be practically two feet square and sunk into the rock about seven inches.

Although the whole district was hunted thoroughly, no dinosaur eggs were discovered such as Roy Chapman Andrews unearthed in Mongolia some time ago. The Mongolian eggs were about eight inches long, but if an egg could be found of the species leaving the two-foot track, it would probably be eighteen inches long, Mr. Sternberg said.

The spot where the discovery was made was close to Hudson Hope, on the Peace River, about 475 miles north of the international boundary line. The river, at that point, has carved out a deep canyon leaving bare many layers of rock. When the dinosaur roamed in those parts, the area was a mass of fresh-water lakes, probably leading into the huge salt-water sea that stretched from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic. The Rocky Mountains, at that time, did not exist.

LIVED NEAR INLAND SEA
The dinosaurs lived on the western side of the inland sea, basking in the subtropical climate that gripped those latitudes. Fossils of ferns, palms and other sub-tropical plants were found by Mr. Sternberg in the same locality as the dinosaur tracks.

The greatest deposit of dinosaur bones and skeletons in Canada is near the Red Deer River in Alberta. Strangely enough, although there are plenty of bones there, only one track has been discovered, and while there are many tracks in the Peace River district, no bones have been unearthed.

Mr. Sternberg removed the rock containing some of the more perfect tracks for preservation in the National Museum in Ottawa. Moulds of others were brought out, including that of the only quadruped discovered there.

That Body of Yours

LOW BLOOD SUGAR

In these days of overeating, overweight, too much sugar in the blood, and sugar in the urine, it is well to remember that the opposite condition is also not uncommon, that is, not enough sugar in the blood.

You will remember that in the Boston Marathon race, three years ago, Harvard physicians, examining the runners after that long hard race, found that the leaders had a large amount of sugar in the blood and the exhausted losers had only a small amount. Those with the large amount of sugar not only finished well up in front, but were in good physical condition when they finished, whereas the losers were in an exhausted condition.

Now when the blood is low in sugar, the individual feels weak and tired and is usually troubled with indigestion, constipation, gas distention, or other intestinal disturbance.

Dr. P. J. Carmichael found low blood pressure in vomiting children, bilious attacks, recurrent headaches, neurasthenia, convulsive attacks, and lack of energy. In twenty-four cases the condition was discovered on examination for life insurance; in forty-eight cases the routine examination of the blood revealed it.

Now what is the cause of this low level of sugar in the blood?

"Increasing experience has shown that acquired infection of any kind—leth, tonsils, and so forth—and intestinal disorders of various kinds, are among the frequent causes of low blood sugar; and as greater attention has been paid to discovering these infections, and more efficient measures for dealing with them have been adopted there has been a corresponding improvement in results."

Experiments have shown that heredity is also a factor, and where treatment has been used on parents, the development of serious symptoms in the children has been prevented.

The thought then is that where the individual feels tired all the time, is easily exhausted, and has intestinal disorders, that an examination of the blood should be made.

The removal of any infection, and increasing of intake of sugar and candy should be of help.

An old Scottish woman who had never been known to say an ill word about anybody, was one day taken to task by her husband.

"Janet," he said impatiently, "I to believe you'd say a good word for the de'il himself."

"Ah, weel," was the reply, "he may na be a guid as he micht be, but he's a very industrious body."
